Death Takes Holiday In County

568 KILLED IN NATION

Although 21 persons were injured on Orange county highways as a result of 18 accidents during the three-day holiday, there were no fatalities.

A United Press survey, however, showed that in the nation as a whole the Independence Day celebration was the costliest in history from a standpoint of lives lost.

Five hundred and sixty-eight persons died violently throughout the country during the triple holiday weekend. This was an all-time high in casualties, surpassing by eight the record established during last year's July 4th celebrations.

Auto Deaths Lead

The record number of deaths resulted despite an intensive campaign which 28 organizations with a 46,000,000 membership had carried on in every state.

Automobile fatalities again topped the casualty list. At least 272 persons died in highway accidents—nearly as many as by all other forms of violence combined. Drownings took 144 lives. The remaining deaths resulted from suicides, shootings, stabbings, falls, minor plane crashes, freak accidents and other miscellaneous types of violence.

Fred Whitty, 37, Route 1, Huntington Beach, probably was the most seriously hurt. He was reportedly walking at Huntington Beach when he stepped into the side of a car driven by George Miles, 51, Santa Ana. The car's rear door handle caught Whitty in the abdomen and ripped open his body.

Give First Aid

Dr. L. F. Whittaker and Dr. B. W. Hardy's nurse gave first aid before Whitty was rushed to St. Joseph hospital. Thomas Smith, 33, Fullerton, and Albert Logan, 27, Fullerton, suffered broken legs when motorcycle and automobile reportedly collided.

Smith also suffered internal injuries, officials said. He was treated at the Fullerton General hospital, then transferred to county hospital.

Family Stranded

On their way home to Hollywood after vacationing in San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Surry turned off Coast highway to avoid congested traffic and their car collided with one operated by Wallace Howe. Mrs. Surry suffered a cut forehead. The family was stranded at police headquarters, Huntington Beach, all night.

At Placentia and Olive roads, last night, six persons were injured, according to reports.

Supervisors Open Highway Bids

Cost of the Santa Ana canyon highway and Santa Fe railroad relocation will reach in the vicinity of $250,000, it was indicated today when the board of supervisors opened 22 bids on the contract.

The bids, covering 29 different items of construction, did not all supply a total figure. Those that did state a total ranged from $25,000 to $344,000. All of the bids were referred to Flood Control Engineer M. N. Thompson for classifying and determination of totals. Thompson was expected to report his findings to the board late today.

COUNTY'S ASSESSED VALUATION UP $419,085 DESPITE FLOODS

Total assessed valuation of Orange county property was up $419,085 over last year's total, despite the ravages of last March's floods, it was shown today when County Assessor James Sleeper turned the assessment rolls over to the board of supervisors, listing $175,851,425 as the county's tax base for the new fiscal year.

The board will sit for two weeks, as a board of equalization, starting next Monday, to hear protests of property owners against the assessments.

Not Included

The figure cited by Sleeper does not include $2,349,515 in soldier exemptions; $7,341,435 in other exemptions, including church property; and $3,524,665 in solvent credits, which are taxed at a lower rate. Nor does it include the assessment upon public utilities, made by the state. This amount, to be added by the state board of equalization, was $14,242,000 last year.

Santa Ana and other cities of the county shared in the increased assessment, excepting Huntington Beach. Santa Ana was up about $2,500,000 to $24,549,305. Fullerton has $14,562,895, a gain of

Threatened

Countess Barbara Haugwitz-Reventlow, 40,000,000 five-and-ten-cent store heiress, pictured above, faced her husband, Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow in court today, and charged him with many things, including blackmail and threats against her life. The count accused to Barbara's attorneys, threatened to "shoot like a dog" an unnamed man whom he said was too friendly with his wife. Countess Barbara also charged that her Danish husband demanded $5,000,000 as the price of a separation.

Indiana Bourbons In Peace Pact

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 5.—(UP)—U. S. Sen. Frederick Van Nuys announced today he would be "delighted" to accept Gov. M. Clifford Townsend's invitation to be a candidate for renomination at the state convention next week and end the party split.

Van Nuys was reached by telephone at his Wallon Lakes, Mich., summer cottage where last night Townsend addressed the telegram inviting him back inside the party ranks.

17 Injured In Fireworks Blast

CHICAGO, July 5.—(UP)—Approximately 20,000 persons were thrown into a panic last night when fireworks exploded prematurely at a neighborhood Fourth of July celebration.

Seventeen persons, nine of them children, were injured. Some suffered burns from the exploding fireworks. The others were trampled as the crowd ran to safety.

Blame Robbery In Hollywood Death

HOLLYWOOD, July 5.—(UP)—An inquest into the mysterious death of King D. Gray, 42-year-old studio cameraman, was held today while investigators revealed they believed robbery was the motive for the shooting of Gray as he sat in his automobile parked early Thursday morning.

Police said Gray received a large pay check from Universal studios, where he had been employed filming "Red Barry," a mystery story, only a few hours before he was shot.

"Robbery is the only reasonable motive," police said. The fact that the dead man's pockets apparently had not been searched was attributed by police to fright on the part of the murderer.

Absence of the death gun and lack of any motive prompted detectives to abandon a suicide theory several days ago.

Heiress In Court Fight

LONDON, July 5.—(UP)—Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow threatened his wife's life, threatened to "shoot like a dog" an unnamed man, talked of blackmail, and demanded $5,000,000 as the price of a separation, it was charged today at Bow street police court.

The count faced his wife, Countess Barbara Haugwitz-Reventlow, 40,000,000 Woolworth five and ten cent store heiress, in the musty little court room and heard her attorneys in an opening statement and direct evidence outline threats complaint which had brought him into the dock.

Before he had had chance to testify himself, and deny the charge against him, the hearing was adjourned until July 13 and he was released in continued bail of 2,000 pounds ($10,000).

The case was adjourned to permit disposal of current ones on (Continued On Page 2, Column 5)

PLAN FURTHER QUIZ IN LOBBYIST CASE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 5.—(UP)—Further examination into the financial affairs of Arthur H. Samish, San Francisco lobbyist, and Earl H. Desmond, Sacramento assemblyman, today appeared probable when the Sacramento grand jury resumes hearings Thursday.

Aides of District Attorney Otis D. Babcock spent the weekend checking Desmond's files and books for possible use in an investigation of legislation surrounding the Desmond milk bill passed at the last legislative session. The searches also sought information about charges by H. E. Deuberry, tax revision league official, that he gave Desmond $120 for legislative services. The assemblyman said the remuneration was for legal work.

Babcock, home from a Lake Tahoe vacation, intimated that Samish and other witnesses would be questioned Thursday. The prosecutor said more details are wanted on what Samish does for clients who pay him a total of considerably more than $115,000 annually as a "public relations counsel."

Samish has additional financial records he has promised to bring before the jury.

He concluded his testimony last week with criticism of publicity methods of Gov. Frank F. Merriam in his reelection campaign.

County To Map Levee Program

Olive-West Orange protection area ranchers today urged the county supervisors to take immediate steps for reconstruction of Santa Ana river levees, destroyed in last spring's floods, and were advised that unless a favorable report is received within a week or 10 days from the state as to financial assistance from that source, the county will undertake its own program.

The delegation, including W. C. Mauerhan, of Katella, and E. C. Conger, of Olive, wanted action on the levees in time to furnish protection against possible floods next winter. They suggested a bond issue, unless some better way was available.

In answer to their inquiry, Flood Engineer M. N. Thompson estimated that $700,000 would be required to rebuild all levees on the Santa Ana river.

Chairman Willard Smith advised the delegation that an answer from the request for state money was expected within the next fortnight, and if it was not favorable, the county would start its own program without delay.

HUKOW FALLS TO JAPANESE

SHANGHAI, July 5.—(UP)—Japanese naval authorities announced today the capture of Hukow, one of the principal barriers in the path of Japanese forces driving toward Hankow, the provisional Chinese capital.

Hukow, on the Yangtze river 160 miles southeast of Hankow, was said to have fallen to the Japanese after a terrific 48-hour battle on land, on the river and in the air. The Japanese claimed to have shot down or destroyed most of China's first line planes.

Paves Way

According to the Japanese, the capture of Hukow would enable them to open an offensive which, if successful, would result in the cutting of the Kuikiang-Nanchang railroad, key to the southeastern defenses of Hankow. Kuikiang is across the river from Hukow and Nanchang, China's greatest air base, is 91 miles due south, across Lake Poyang.

Hukow was subjected to terrific aerial bombings and artillery barrages for days before the Japanese were able to penetrate its outer defenses.

HISTORIC TOWN IS BOMBED BY REBELS

BADALONA, Spain, July 5.—(UP)—Thirteen Nationalists airplanes, described as Junkers (German) dropped 50 bombs today on this industrial suburb five miles north of Barcelona, killing at least 14 persons and wounding many others.

The ancient town of Roman legend gradually was being reduced to ruins by a week of raids. There were great open gaps in the central area of the city of some 20,000. The facade of every house was scarred. Today's casualties were reduced because many of the houses were unoccupied. Civilians had not yet returned from the nearby hills where they fled during a raid last night in which 10 persons were killed and 20 wounded.

Search Ruins

Today's bombing was concentrated in an area of four blocks in the heart of the town. Rescue (Continued On Page 2, Column 3)

Plan Tests For New Oil Well

COALINGA, Cal., July 5.—(UP)—Officials of the Petroleum Securities Corporation today prepared to make a full production test of the company's Gatchel No. 2 well in the newly-discovered oil field six miles northeast of here.

A flow of 6,785 barrels a day was gauged Friday, but the test was halted when the single trap proved inadequate to handle the rush of oil. Oil men predicted the well's potential production would be between 10,000 and 20,000 barrels daily of high gravity oil. The well went on commercial production last Thursday night.

Meanwhile major oil companies with holdings adjacent to the new field hastened prospecting and drilling operations.

Glider Pilots Vie for Honors

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 5.—(UP)—Two glider pilots, one representing the U. S. navy and another Germany, today claimed equal rights to a $1500 prize for the longest flight during the national soaring contest, now in its second week.

Lieut. Robert M. Stanley of San Diego, U. S. N., yesterday duplicated Peter Riedel's 225-mile flight to Washington, D. C., on Sunday. Riedel is a German pilot. The navy flier had a clear claim to the distance record. Riedel was ruled ineligible for American records because of his foreign registry.

Child Gets Wrong Gun; Father Hurt

SACRAMENTO, July 5.—(UP)—Alfred Latona, 32, romped with his 5-year-old daughter while she played with her cap pistol. Then he laid the toy gun on a dresser near his own .38 caliber revolver. As he walked from the room, little Mary picked up the real gun, aimed at her father and pulled the trigger. Latona went to the hospital with a real bullet in his shoulder.

Hypnotist Faces Quiz

HOLLYWOOD, July 5.—(UP)—Robert Avery Gilbert, the hypnotist who won fame as "The Great Gilbert" on the vaudeville stage, today told police he had been summoned to the home of Mrs. Marie Colombos, 23, to prevent childbirth by "hypnotic suggestion."

The young housewife and mother was found dead in her home Thursday under mysterious conditions. Gilbert denied emphatically he had administered to the woman in any manner. He said he merely had gone to the Colombos home at the suggestion of the husband, George Colombos, 23, to discuss treatments.

Aided at Birth

He said he had been summoned to prevent childbirth and not to assist in the expected birth of Mrs. Colombos child, due six months hence.

FOR PREPARES FOR POLITICAL INVASION

WASHINGTON, July 5.—(UP)—President Roosevelt is preparing today for a trans-continental invasion of primary election battlefields in the dual role of party leader and chief executive and as the champion of liberals generally against conservatives of all parties.

His precise strategy is not known. But political observers considered it significant that among the states visited will be half a dozen in which the New Deal has vital interests. The journey, beginning July 7, will take Mr. Roosevelt into Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, California, Georgia and South Carolina—the latter two after a fishing vacation from which the President will return by way of the Panama Canal.

Restates Issues

Uppermost in Mr. Roosevelt's mind as he prepared to depart probably is the welfare of 100 percent New Deal primary candidates seeking renomination and the opportunity his journey will offer to re-state to the voters some of the issues upon which he and Congress have differed. Insofar as he undertakes to particularize issues for this campaign, Mr. Roosevelt may again emphasize to those who hear him:

1. His determination to raise again the issue of reorganization of the executive departments of government which was voted down by the House in the session which ended last month.
2. New Deal plans to deal with monopoly, monopolistic practices and high prices.
3. The administration's desire for regional planning legislation for better use of land and water resources.
4. And possibly his determination to raise the corporation surtax and capital gains tax question again in an effort to restore the provisions which congress this year eliminated from the revenue act.

Seek New Judge In Bridges Case

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—(UP)—Prosecution and defense counsel were to decide today on a judge to hear the contempt of court charges against Harry Bridges, Pacific coast leader of the C. I. O.

If the attorneys fail to agree, Judge Ruben Schmidt will file a request with a judicial council to select an outside jurist to preside.

Last week Judge Schmidt withdrew from the case, which originated with asserted efforts of Bridges to influence the court in trial of a jurisdictional dispute among members of the San Pedro local of the A. F. of L. longshoremen.

Hold Inquest In Fatal Accident

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—(UP)—Coroner Frank Nance today conducted an inquest into the death of three persons, two of them young women who were killed last Thursday when their speeding automobile crashed into a Santa Fe locomotive.

Berne Ellis, 35, driver of the car and sole survivor of the crash, remained in critical condition today in Maywood hospital.

Ellis, whose home is at 80 Woodworth avenue, Redwood city, was almost scalped and suffered internal injuries. He did not learn until Saturday of the death of his companion on a gay, all-night party at a suburban cafe.

A Visit Not On His Itinerary

Thomas P. Douglas, Santa Ana garage man, formerly president of the Orange Rotary club, today was appointed Orange county welfare director, as a successor to Jack W. Snow, who was discharged by the board last week.

Douglas, who was nominated for the office of purchasing agent at the time the present board appointed Eugene Fenelon to that office, January 1, 1937, will immediately take charge of the welfare department, relieving Harry Edwards, who was appointed acting director last Tuesday. Edwards will resume his place as director of veterans' welfare.

Finley Selection

Supervisor Steele Finley, who led the move to oust Snow, nominated Douglas for the position today. Chairman Willard Smith and Supervisor N. E. West voted in favor of Douglas, with Supervisors John Mitchell and Harry Riley opposing the appointment.

Finley had nominated Douglas as purchasing agent at the time Fenelon was appointed, Fenelon winning the contest.

SANTA ANAN FACES PRISON AS CITY'S FIRST "DRUNK FLIER"

At 10 a. m. tomorrow in Santa Ana justice court, Sid Holland, 40, local aviator of 528 Linwood, Santa Ana, will face the first charge of its kind filed in Orange county.

He will be arraigned at that time on a charge of drunk flying. When arrested as he returned and landed his plane at the Eddie Martin airport Sunday night about 6 p. m. he was accused of zooming the plane as low as 200 feet over the city in a series of stunts. He was examined and pronounced "moderately" intoxicated.

Faces Two Counts

According to Officers George Boyd and W. H. Heard, who waited for Holland at the field after witnessing the performance, a city ordinance prohibits stunting below the 2000-foot level over the city and Chapter 350, statutes of 1929, general laws of California, makes it a felony to fly a plane while intoxicated. Holland was charged both with being drunk and drunk flying.

Drunk flying is a felony punishable by imprisonment in a state prison from one to five years. Holland, booked at county jail, provided $1000 bail and was released pending arraignment. The arrest was made after the officers obtained the plane's license number during the stunting.

Hughes Ready For Paris Flight

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—Howard Hughes, 32-year-old millionaire sportsman and airplane speed champion, said today that he would take off within two weeks on a flight to Paris and possibly around the world in his twin-engine monoplane which he landed at Floyd Bennett field at 7:38 last night after a seven-hour flight from Wichita, Kan.

Four assistants will accompany him across the ocean to publicize New York's world fair in 1939. They plan a comparatively slow and safe flight, averaging about 155 miles an hour by throttling down the plane motors to 450 of their 1100 horsepower each to conserve gasoline.

At such a speed, they could reach Paris in 24 hours.

On the flight from Kansas, speed was reduced to 155 miles an hour to test gasoline consumption, which was found to be 70 gallons an hour. The plane's fuel capacity is 1750 gallons.

Bullet Ends "Crime Career"

HOLLYWOOD, July 5.—(UP)—Sixteen-year-old Robert F. Watson's brief crime career came to an end today when his gun accidentally discharged and wounded him in the leg, police reported.

Police found the boy with blood pouring from a bullet wound in his left leg. He said the gun had slipped from the waist band of his trousers and discharged as it struck the sidewalk.

The boy said he threw the weapon away in the yard of the Hollywood high school.

Police said the youth admitted he looted several Hollywood homes recently after he came here from Boston. He was booked on suspicion of burglary.

ORANGE MAN IS SELECTED

Thomas P. Douglas, Santa Ana garage man, formerly president of the Orange Rotary club, today was appointed Orange county welfare director, as a successor to Jack W. Snow, who was discharged by the board last week.

Douglas, who was nominated for the office of purchasing agent at the time the present board appointed Eugene Fenelon to that office, January 1, 1937, will immediately take charge of the welfare department, relieving Harry Edwards, who was appointed acting director last Tuesday. Edwards will resume his place as director of veterans' welfare.

Finley had nominated Douglas as purchasing agent at the time Fenelon was appointed, Fenelon winning the contest.

SANTA ANA RESIDENT 45 YEARS IS CALLED

Frank O. Calkins, 69, of 807 Garfield street, who for the last 45 years had been a resident of Santa Ana, died yesterday in St. Joseph hospital as the result of injuries he suffered last June 24 when he fell from a garage roof at 1614 Bush street, where he was painting.

Mr. Calkins, who was born in Wolcott, N. Y., came direct to Santa Ana from the east, and for some time had been employed as a mill worker. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Louise W. Calkins, four sisters, Mrs. Carrie Zimmerman, McCook, Neb., Mrs. Charlotte J. Stalker, Orange; Mrs. Jennie J. Hughes, Raisin City, Colo., and Mrs. Annie Olmstead, Lemore, Calif., and a daughter, Mrs. Florence Tico, Oxnard, Calif.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Smith and Smith mortuary. Mr. Calkins had been a member of the Congregational church here.

Southland Rocked By Earthquake

A slight earth shock that jarred Los Angeles at 10:07 a. m. today, according to United Press dispatch, was plainly recognizable in Santa Ana and vicinity. The tremor, however, was not heavy enough to cause damage.

It was described as a "small shock" by Carnegie institution seismologists at Pasadena, who said the epicenter probably was within 45 miles from Pasadena.

The tremor was felt in the lower downtown area of Los Angeles, but uptown it was not noticed.

Drivers Cleared In Fatal Crash

Three drivers of cars involved in the traffic death of C. S. Holman, 64-year-old Balboa Island realtor, Friday night on Coast highway, Corona Del Mar, were exonerated today when a coroner's jury met at Dixon funeral chapel, Costa Mesa.

Holman was struck down by a car operated by Exis Jamison, 19, Laguna Beach, then his body was struck by two other cars, passing at the time.

DOZEN RESCUED FROM SURF AT COUNTY BEACHES OVER FOURTH

From Friday at 10 a. m. until today at 2 a. m., Dana Lamb, head of the county coast rescue patrol, and his men, were "on the run" most of the time to handle calls or make rescues at Orange county beach resorts where the largest crowds in history gathered for week-end and holiday celebrating.

"It was the largest crowd I ever saw gathered along the Orange county coast line," Lamb said. "An estimated 3000 persons were located between Huntington Beach and the Santa Ana river jetty, while 2000 were at Bay Shore Beaches at Crystal Cove, El Morro, Goff Island and Aliso were packed."

Brought In Exhausted

A significant factor in the four-day activity, Lamb said, was that among the dozen who were rescued or assisted to shore, none was a resident of the beach area, but came from inland points in this county, or the Los Angeles area.

One rescue each was made at Sunset Beach, the jetty and at the county park, Coast Royal. At Coast Royal, Guard Barr Amunda had gone on duty a few moments before he was called to bring in an exhausted swimmer.

of Los Angeles to a "painless" childbirth by "post-hypnotic suggestion."

He told police that when he saw Mrs. Colombos he found her trying to lift the end of a 150-pound couch and that she told him she had been taking drugs.

A preliminary autopsy report indicated traces of the drugs in Mrs. Colombos' stomach.

Became Frightened
While attempting to lift the couch, Mrs. Colombos fainted, Gilbert told police. He said he became frightened and fled.

Colombos told police he summoned Gilbert to assist Mrs. Colombos in preventing childbirth.

"She was not strong and I believe her death was just due to her naturally weakened condition and the quinine and other medicines she said she took," the young husband, who came here recently from St. Louis, Mo., told officers.

"The Great Gilbert," so known during his 20 years in Orpheum circuit vaudeville as a steely-eyed hypnotist, insisted his occult ministrations could not possibly have killed Mrs. Colombos. He said he believed she had died of a heart attack, suffered when she attempted to move a couch.

Hurl Charges
Police countered with the assertion that when they burst into the Colombos home, they found the body on the couch, with eyes closed, hands crossed on the breast, ankles together, clothes in perfect array—and a faint smile upon the lips.

They charged that the position of the body and the expression on the face indicated Mrs. Colombos had experienced such a cataleptic sleep as had hundreds of Gilbert's vaudeville fans. His specialty through the years had been the calling of men and women to the stage, staring deeply into their eyes until they lost consciousness and then forcing them to do his will.

"The Great Gilbert" thus had made many a matron cackle like a hen. He had made grown men prattle as babies. He had stuck needles into the flesh of his stooges, without their even knowing it.

Strike Ties Up Can Co. Plants

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(UP)—

San Francisco and Oakland plants of the American Can Company remained closed by strike today as company officials announced their San Jose plant had reopened and crews were operating at Sacramento and Los Angeles.

Seventy regular workers replaced strikebreakers at the San Jose plant and returned to work in compliance with the order of William Dalrymple, regional director of the steel workers' organizing committee.

Dalrymple still remained at odds with a rank-and-file strike committee and CIO leaders in San Francisco and Oakland, who repudiated his order to return to work when the strike was called.

Joe Kane, 1629 West Eighth, told local police last night, a thief stole a $15 spotlight from his car while he was at Balboa earlier in the evening.

Lunch Time at Florida's New Marineland

Marineland, 18 miles south of St. Augustine, Fla., gives visitors an opportunity to watch denizens of the deep living together in a setting much like that of their native habitat. Spectators watch the cavorting of sharks, porpoises, giant turtles and many kinds of fish through port holes around the side of two large tanks and through glass bottoms of the tanks. The big brick and steel structure is unique in that many natural enemies of the ocean are kept in the same tank, whereas aquarium practice heretofore has been to separate them according to species. The photo above shows a giant porpoise taking a snack of mullet from a diver's hand as a 300-pound turtle and a lot of other fish look on. The photo at left shows the same porpoise rising from the water for more mullet, offered by Arthur McBride, a curator. This porpoise and her baby are the only two of their species in captivity.

workers dug in the ruins hours after the raid. The known dead included one woman and six children.

Four men were killed in a small textile plant when a heavy incendiary bomb crashed through a skylight. Two others died in a small carpenter shop where they had been making coffins for victims of last night's raid. These included an entire family of seven who were killed when a bomb fell into a refuge cellar.

REBEL FORCES CAPTURE SEAPORT
HENDAYE, July 5.—(UP)—Nationalist forces today captured the important seaport city of Burriana, 18 miles north of Sagunto and center of the Spanish orange growing region, in the fourth day of an offensive which broke the Loyalist "iron ring" south of Teruel.

After mopping up the port and the town, the Nationalists continued down the coastal road to the walled town of Nules, 12 miles to the south. They claimed to have freed Burriana from Loyalist artillery fire.

18 Mile Advance
In the last three days the Nationalists have advanced 18 miles through wild mountain country in the sector dominated by La Puebla de Valverde, a town south of Sagunto and to the right of the road to Sagunto, according to dispatches from Zaragoza.

Government reports said intense fighting was in progress in all sectors on the eastern front above Sagunto and Valencia and admitted that the insurgents "after many losses, slightly bettered their lines."

Judge Chosen To Hear Labor Case

LOS ANGELES, July 5.—(UP)—

Rival attorneys today stipulated to the selection of Superior Judge Edward T. Bishop to hear contempt proceedings against Harry Bridges, West Coast leader of the Committee for Industrial Organization, as the outgrowth of a recent jurisdictional dispute between A. F. of L. and CIO longshoremen factions at San Pedro.

Judge Bishop docketed the hearing for July 13. Attorneys A. L. Wirin and Ben Margolies, representing Bridges, said at that time they would file a demurrer to the entire proceedings.

The attorneys said their arguments would probably last two days. If they are overruled, the hearing will then proceed.

Wife Threatened
Haugwitz-Reventlow, it was asserted, threatened to put his wife "on the spot;" threatened to seize Lance, their 2-year-old son; threatened to kill himself; threatened to give the countess "three years' Hell with headlines."

Of the unnamed man—prominent in London society, it was said—who was brought into the case, Haugwitz-Reventlow, was quoted as saying:

"Dueling Too Good"
"... Duelling is too good for that—I'll go straight to London and shoot him like a dog and put the countess on the spot!"

Guarded reference was made to a letter which the count had received from an unnamed person.

It was disclosed that the countess had considered settling $1,250,000 on the count but later decided it might be better to make him an outright gift of $250,000.

After all the charges, outlined first by Sir Patrick Hastings, the countess's chief counsel, in an opening statement, and then by William M. Mitchell, her regular lawyer, in testimony, Mitchell admitted under cross-examination that the count said:

"Still Loves Her"
"Despite everything I still love her and always will."

"But at the same time he said words to another effect, too," added Mitchell.

"Did he say he had never looked at another woman and had always been sweet to his wife?" asked Norman Birkett, for the count.

"Yes," admitted Mitchell. "You agree that there were absolutely no grounds whatever for divorce?"

"Absolutely none," said Mitchell. Attitude "Impossible"

Sir Patrick Hastings, for the countess, read the letter, written June 17, in which the countess broke with her husband. It was:

"Dear Count:
"Your attitude during the last few weeks, has made it impossible for me to go on living with you. I want to say I hope you are well and that I want you to have a happy life, just as I want one for myself. Together this is impossible, as I realize now. I do not want you to have hard feelings about me and I have not got any about you. One thing I want to ask you: Please do not ask or try to see me again. I shall be reasonable and I know you will also. With all my best wishes,
"Always affectionately,
"BARBARA."

WOODEN GIRL 'KIDNAPED'

The girl is a little one made of wood and had been decorating her yard. Officer Tom Kinney was called upon to hunt the girl.

defenses early yesterday. Its buildings had been reduced to debris and as the last of the Chinese retreated, the Japanese entered. The civil populace had evacuated when the first shells crashed into the city.

Before the Chinese fell back, they dumped tons of rocks, sank ships and junk and laid mines in barricade across the Yangtze to impede the movement of Japanese warships which were having difficulties farther down the river, with other barricades and frequent Chinese air raids.

Japanese naval authorities asserted that the advance along the Yangtze was "fairly easy" except at Siangkow, 40 miles west of Anking, where Japanese troops were forced to land on June 24 under a barrage of heavy Chinese artillery.

GERMAN ADVISORS LEAVE CHINA

SHANGHAI, July 5.—(UP)—Gen. Alexander Von Falkenhausen, chief of the German military mission to China, left Hankow today with the last of his associates at the order of the German Nazi government. Dispatches from Hankow, reporting the departure, asserted that the German military chieftain said in his farewell message:

"I feel sure that China is gaining final victory and that Japan will fall both in war and peace."

The statement caused a sensation here. It was known that Falkenhausen left only with great reluctance at the peremptory order of his government. Also it was reported from Hankow that after the first order for his departure, he had told foreign military attaches that he would not leave China unless he was threatened with prosecution in Germany.

In a recent farewell message to Chinese troops, Gen. Falkenhausen was reported to have expressed unending loyalty to and sympathy Yesterday, Jim Adcock of the squad saved Pete DeBello, 21, Los Angeles, when DeBello was caught in a rip tide and carried out to sea off Goff Island. DeBello was unconscious and the rescuer was necessary to revive him. After he had recovered once, he became unconscious a second time and the squad had to use a tank of oxygen to revive him.

Dozens of other rescues or assists for those in danger also were registered, Lamb revealed in his report.

Eleven persons were rescued by Huntington Beach life guards under the direction of Chief Guard Bud Higgins. Betty Grove, 12, Colton, was rescued from a rip tide, while the following were brought to shore after being caught in a cross current under the pier, and cut: Bob Lewis, 18, Santa Ana; John Chara, 17, Anaheim; Marjorie Robinson, 18, Maywood; Bruce Worth, 15, Huntington Beach, and six others whose names were not secured by life guards.

Twenty remaining German army men who had been advising the Chinese were given a farewell luncheon at Hankow Saturday by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Jews, Arabs Die In Uprisings

JERUSALEM, July 5.—(UP)—Six Jews were killed and four wounded today in a renewal of attacks and counter-attacks between Jews and Arabs which led some observers to fear a civil war.

Curfew regulations were imposed again and British troops and police throughout Palestine were on the alert for new terrorism after an outbreak of disorders in which nine Arabs were killed and 13 wounded.

The prospect of some form of civil war might ultimately compel Great Britain, which holds a mandate over the Holy Land, to take decisive action, it was said.

Mapping President's Cross-Country Itinerary

The route of President Roosevelt's transcontinental tour, expected to include at least four addresses of major political significance, is shown in the map above. In addition to numerous rear-platform appearances, the President scheduled formal speeches at Marietta, O., in connection with the 150th anniversary of the founding of the first Northwest Territory settlement; at Covington, Ky., where he is expected to give a boost to the re-election campaign of Senate Floor Leader Alben Barkley; and at Ocala, Fla., where he is expected to give a boost to the re-election campaign of Senate Floor Leader Alben Barkley; and at Ocala, Fla., where he is expected to give a boost to the re-election campaign of Senate Floor Leader Alben Barkley.

Pickets Busy At Balboa Theater

A picket line of two members of the motion picture operators' local 504, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, has been established in front of the Balboa theater, Balboa, operated by Mason Siler and will, according to union officials, stay until definite settlement has been reached.

The union, charging that the theatre is the only one in the county that has been unable to make a working settlement with motion picture operators, established the first picket line last Saturday.

At a meeting of the union officials today at the Orange County Central Labor council, on West Fourth street, it was decided to maintain the picket line until negotiations with Siler could be completed.

Sportsman Maps Defense

PLAN CONFERENCE ON WPA JOB SITUATION IN ORANGE COUNTY

The problem of Los Angeles county WPA workers in administrative positions in Orange county remained at a standstill today, as Congressman Harry R. Sheppard and Col. Donald Connolly, district administrator for WPA, were attempting to arrange a conference "to get to the bottom of the affair."

"Regarding the Class B workers, who are being employed as engineers on those who have been judged unfit for heavy manual labor, something must be done to assist these men," Sheppard said today. "As for the charges presented to me by Orange county WPA workers and ex-workers on Friday that Los Angeles men are taking Orange county administrative positions—I must reserve my opinion on the situation until I can hear both sides of the question."

Plans Investigation
"If it is true that local men are being laid off and work is being done by Los Angeles county men when there are Orange county men available, then, as a private citizen, I will do whatever I can to see that the situation is remedied."

Major Lee Dillon, assistant to Colonel Connolly, today repeated his stand that Los Angeles men

SEEKS COURT SALARY BOOST

Increase in salary of the judge of Santa Ana justice court from $157.50 to $250 per month was requested of the county supervisors today by a committee of the Orange County Bar Association, with the result that the board asked the committee to aid in working out a salary revision program for all justice courts in the county.

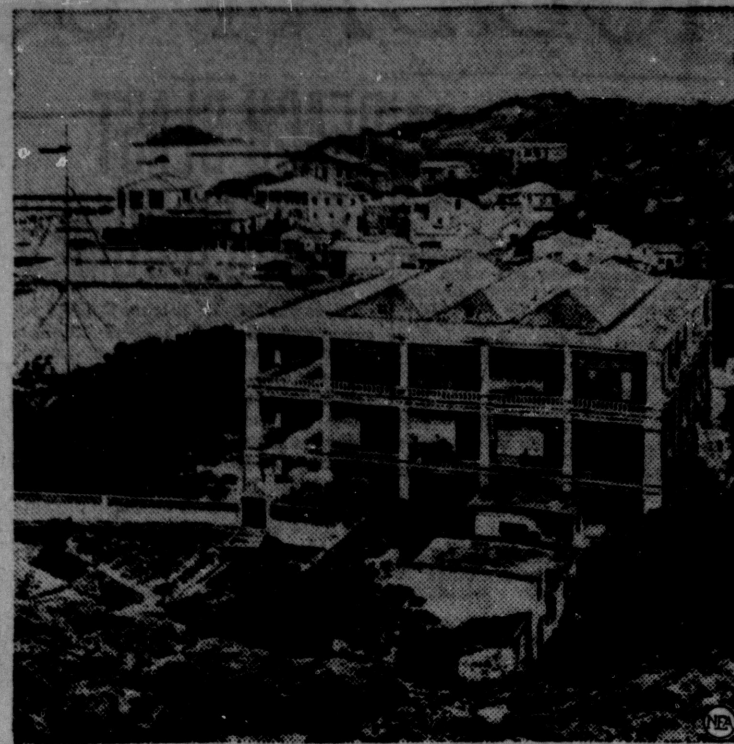

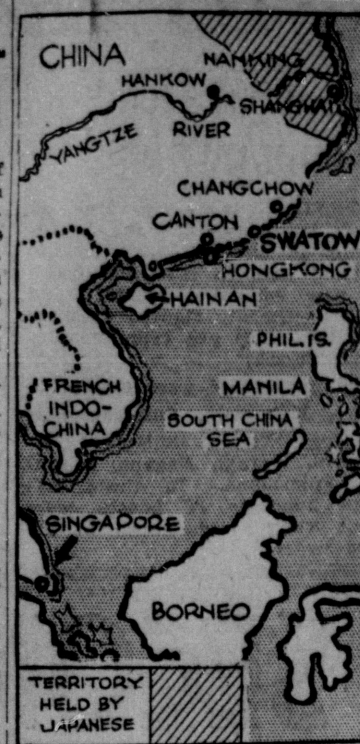

The bar committee, headed by Stanley Reinhaus, and including B. Z. McKinney and H. C. Head, made its request to the board after investigating salaries of Class A justice courts in other southern counties. Figures are cited by McKinney told the board that the Santa Ana court salary was far below the average. Riverside county pays $200 per month and will raise this to $225 next January 1. Marriage fees in that county compare with those in Santa Ana since the three-day marriage law and wedding chapels cut that revenue in this county.

Reinhaus observed that the justice court law contemplated permitting the justice to devote only part of his time to the job. But Santa Ana court is so busy that it requires full-time work at part-time salary, he said.

Supervisors John Mitchell and N. E. West, members of the board's salary committee, invited the bar committee to assist in mapping out a program to raise all justice courts in the county. They said that the present method of classifying according to population does not give a fair measure of the work performed, and some justices are underpaid. The bar committee agreed to help out, so Chairman Smith assigned the job to the salary committee and District Attorney Menton, working with the bar committee.

Where New Jap Bombing Arouses French, British

When Japanese war planes dropped scores of bombs on the Chinese port of Swatow, shown in photo at right, killing and wounding more than 1000 persons, British and French statesmen had new cause for alarm—for Swatow is far south along the Chinese coast and dangerously close to strategic British and French possessions. As shown in the map at left above, Swatow is near the British naval base at Hongkong. Great Britain fears that the bombing of the south China port may presage further attempts to seize Hainan Island, which in turn would enable the Japanese to cut the sea route between the British bases at Hongkong and Singapore. France reportedly has warned Japan against occupying Hainan because of the island's proximity to French Indo-China.

SADNESS MARKS 'LAST RETREAT' OF AGED CIVIL WAR VETERANS

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 5.—(UP)—Armies of the North and South turned away from Gettysburg battlefield for the last time today with a note of sadness in their friendly farewells.

Many of the aged men of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans had clung tenaciously to their fading health that they might see this final reunion on the 75th anniversary of the biggest battle of the Civil war.

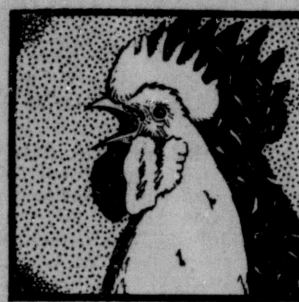

They have seen it now—an incomparable reunion in the history of the world's wars.

Symbol of Peace
But perhaps most impressive to the men in faded blue and gray was the unveiling of a new monument on Oak Hill, where, henceforth, a flame will burn eternally above the battlefield as a symbol of the nation's peace and unity. "God bless you" and "good bye" were spoken in the same breath time and again as the armies parted with sorrow as sincere, if not as tragic, as on that day three-quarters of a century ago, when the army of northern Virginia, beaten back on Cemetery Ridge, turned toward Hagerstown leaving the union of 1800 men on an average age of 94 years went to the first regular army medical regiment under Lt. Col. Paul R. Hawley. "I have been amazed at the manner in which these men have stood up under the excitement of the reunion," Hawley said in commenting on the fact that none had died. The 1913 reunion was marked by nine deaths.

Advance preparation and favorable weather was partly responsible for the record. Special diets were prepared for many of the veterans. Army doctors made about 50 calls a day in the camps.

A motor car can be painted in one day by modern methods. The process formerly required six weeks and called for 22 coats of paint.

Five persons were booked at jail during the week end and holiday on charges of drunk driving, records of the county jail show, while the same records show 36 persons, three of them women, were booked at the jail charged with being intoxicated.

Arrested yesterday afternoon, asserted in possession of a car not his own, Arthur Bonner, 27, Los Angeles, was charged with drunk driving and intoxication by Deputy Sheriff Steve Duhart and G. F. McKelvey.

Whether Bonner had consent of the owner to drive will be determined today. The owner is Guy Musser, Los Angeles, according to papers in the car when stopped in Buena Park.

Shinichi Hamamoto, 33, Route 1, Garden Grove, was arrested on drunk driving charge in Anaheim township by Deputy Sheriff Harvey Gulick and William Trapp late Sunday night. R. R. Winton, 52, Ontario, was arrested Sunday evening in the same township by Deputy A. W. Fullerton and Vern Mohn.

DRYSDALE RETIRES FROM EDISON CO.

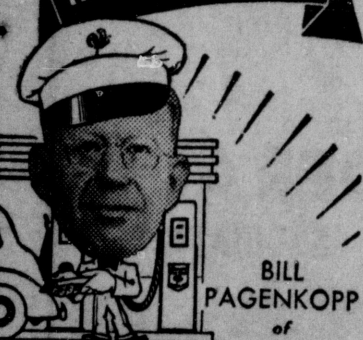

After 29 years of continuous employment with the Southern California Edison company, George R. Drysdale, Costa Mesa, a veteran chief clerk with the organization, was on the retired list today.

From 1911 to 1933, Drysdale was chief clerk here; since 1933, he has been chief clerk at the Huntington Beach office.

Drysdale's long service began in July, 1909, in Los Angeles. After one week of work in the main office at Los Angeles, the veteran Edison man was transferred to Long Beach where he soon became chief clerk and remained until 1917. From 1917 to 1921, he was chief clerk at the Santa Barbara office. After a few weeks of remaining in the county, Mr. and Mrs. Drysdale will plan a vacation of travel, he indicated. The Drysdales have two children, Robert Drysdale, employed at the Edison company here, and Mrs. Francis Griset, living near Oceanside.

Barking War Dogs... Will They Bite?

With resentment growing among a section of the British public over government inaction on the bombing of British merchantmen, the Home Fleet of the Royal Navy, led by King George, put on a demonstration of sea might in the English Channel. With their royal commander on the bridge of the flag-ship Nelson, 80 ships went through elaborate exercises, including a demonstration of defense against aerial attack. Pictured above are the anti-aircraft batteries of H. M. S. Sheffield blasting away at a radio-controlled airplane target which was brought down.

RUSH WORK ON HUGE BUILDING

DEARBORN, Mich.—(UP)—A $34,000,000 building program—one of the largest ever undertaken in private industry during a period of economic recession—is being pushed to completion by the Ford Motor Company.

Construction work on new buildings and the expansion of old ones is being carried out by the most part at Henry Ford's vast River Rouge plant. An addition is being constructed to the present buildings at Somerville, Mass., and at Norfolk, Va. A new carburetor plant is being erected at Milford, Mich.

The Ford building schedule is reported to be the greatest in American industry at present. Five new units to the vast Ford industrial system will cost $27,000,000. Improvements and additions to existing units will cost an estimated $5,225,000.

Biggest project in the program is the new press shop which will cost $13,500,000. Huge presses are being erected at the River Rouge plant that will dwarf their operators as they stamp body panels from sheet steel. Operations in this building will supplement those in the present pressed steel building, in which 3,000,000 pounds of steel per day are formed into body sections to be welded into steel bodies.

Electric Furnaces Installed
New equipment is being added to the rolling mills completed in the 1934 building program. A hot strip mill will be equipped to roll a 60-inch sheet instead of a 48-inch sheet now turned out. Two new slab reheating furnaces and a new finishing stand will be added. In the cold finishing mill, a 78-inch continuous pickler and 12 sets of three Bell-type bright anneal electric furnaces are being installed.

A new tool and die building is under construction at a cost of approximately $2,000,000. Equipment for the shop will cost another $1,300,000. The structure is 300 feet long and 1,200 feet deep. More than 900 tons of structural steels were required for the building.

Another $5,600,000 has been expended for a new tire manufacturing plant now virtually complete. The amount covers the cost of building and equipment.

THRONGS ATTRACTED TO AREA BEACHES FOR HOLIDAY FETES

Orange county's beaches and parks attracted huge throngs over the holiday, with beach merchants reporting their best business this year.

Beach cities presented special programs over the holiday, the beaches from Seal Beach down to San Clemente being crowded over the weekend.

Elaborate Affairs
Huntington Beach presented an elaborate three-day affair, climaxed with a military parade yesterday morning and fireworks display last evening.

Newport-Balboa had both afternoon and evening fireworks displays, huge crowds visiting the harbor district over the weekend.

In charge of the fireworks displays were Fire Chief Frank Crocker, Are White, Fred Storey, J. P. Greeley, Al Anderson and Lonnie Vincent.

Races sponsored by the Newport Harbor Yacht Club were held yesterday afternoon. In the Star class, with five starters, the "Moderna" was the winner, the "Procyon" being second. The electric power plant at the River Rouge location is undergoing alterations for installation of a new 110,000 kilowatt turbo-generator and high pressure steam boiler. The new generator will be a sister unit in two similar turbines already in service. When installation is complete, the Rouge power house will embrace the largest high pressure system in the world. Electric power production increases will cost $3,500,000 when completed.

Coke Ovens to Total 61

The present 16-acre foundry is being altered and supplied with new equipment at a cost of $550,000.

Other minor projects in the program include an addition to the Rouge plant's paper mill and installation of a giant hydraulic press and drying unit for production of resin and stanolite board.

Construction of service lines to accommodate enlarged power and fuel facilities includes water lines up to 54 inches in diameter and gas lines up to 48 inches in diameter.

Additions to the company branch plants at Somerville, Mass., and Norfolk, Va., will cost $1,075,000. The carburetor plant at Milford, Mich., will cost $600,000, including equipment.

The Milford plant is one of the dozen Ford "village" industries located within a short distance from the Rouge plant and maintained to produce small parts needed for the automobile. Men in nearby villages and surrounding country are employed in the plant or hired to maintain gardens and farms in keeping with Ford's policy of industrial decentralization.

CROWD VISITS LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, July 5.—The largest and most thoroughly organized day in the history of Laguna Beach culminated last night in a two-hour fireworks display under the direction of American Legion post 222.

On the heights overlooking the ocean, adjacent to Heister Park, were hundreds of automobiles parked double for several blocks, while on Coast boulevard, Broadway and the downtown business blocks, other cars were parked, their occupants enjoying the varied attractions available during the three-day celebration.

FOUR ACTS IN DRAMA OF LIFE AND DEATH ON CHINA'S WAR STAGE

1. In the sudden, peace-like silence, after Japan's deadly bombers had flown away, a bandage-swathed Chinese of Canton, pawing over the debris left from his bomb-shattered house, heard a feeble cry rising from somewhere beneath the wreckage. He knew the voice—it was his daughter's . . .

2. With much rescue work to be done, there were rescue parties throughout the stricken city. The Chinese father called a group of straw-hatted coolies and steel-helmeted soldiers to help him save his child. Working frantically to reach the buried girl, they pushed and pulled the debris away . . .

3. Finally the terror-stricken child, whose frightened visage can be seen above, was found. Although daylight had reached her and she could breathe freely, the rescue was not complete, for the little girl still lay pinned under bricks, mortar and boards. The rescuers hastened their efforts . . .

4. Freed, at last, the child is lifted in the arms of her saviors from the crush of debris which might have been her tomb. A happy ending—for one of China's children. These four remarkable photos make up a capsule drama, showing what life is like for China's millions under the terror of modern warfare from the skies.

While exact specifications of the proposed ship have not been announced, it would weigh about 100 tons and have a wingspread of about 300 feet. Driving motors are encased in the wings.

Dreaming of $200 a Month

The comical hats perched on their heads contrasting with the expressions of earnestness and hopefulness on their faces, these typical elderly delegates to the third annual Townsend Plan convention in Los Angeles are pictured as they listened to Congressman Ralph Brewster of Maine. Romeo Leaves As Juliet Succumbs

ORANGE, July 5.—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hight, returning from Yellowstone park, found that during their absence two large turtles which had lived in the gardens of the Hight home were no longer residents of that pleasant spot. The turtles were named "Romeo" and "Juliet." It was apparent that "Juliet" had passed on from some unknown cause. "Romeo," the Hights think, may have followed the example of the Shakespearean character for whom he was named and made way with himself, or may have found the garden too lonely without his mate and gone away on a journey. Both turtles were very old and of huge size.

Filling up as best you can on the day after the day before: Roy Renwick wonders what a guy has to do to spend a safe and sane Fourth of July. The little pro of the Santa Ana Country club has been on the golf courses of the U. S. and Canada for 14 years, and he was just minding his own business yesterday when a golf ball came out of nowhere and socked him right in the face, knocking out one of his teeth. Renwick was walking off the green on No. 12 and the ball—hit by a visitor—sailed over a hill and connected like one of Joe Louis' haymakers. Roy never even saw the ball before it got him. "It was the first time in all my golf experience I was ever struck by a ball," observed Renwick ruefully.

The Elks are going to give the other boys a chance during the second half of the Santa Ana City league season that opens at the Municipal Bowl tonight. Lyle Morse, No. 1 pitcher of the circuit, perhaps the best who's ever worked in it, will not be seen in the box for the B.P.O.E. until the post-season playoffs—if there is a playoff. Bruce Harnois is carrying on for the Elks alone.

When is a hole-in-one not a hole-in-one? Ask J. W. (Bill) Beach and Ross Hostetter of the Santa Ana Country club and they'll tell you. Both of 'em had eagles yesterday and their payoff shot was as good as any of 'em. Beach turned in an eagle three on the first hole, a dog-leg of 569 yards. Hostetter came right along on the 360-yard seventh with an eagle two. He holed out from 180 yards.

"Tex" Oliver and Bill Cole will be "home" from the University of Oregon July 15, and will be with us until early in September when time comes for the big Pacific Coast conference football machines to start rumbling. Oliver will summer at his beach home on Lido Isle. Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Cole head for Santa Ana tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Shields were driving along about 4 a. m. one day up above Redding, a couple of weeks ago, and were having an awful time passing a guy with a trailer. Every time they would speed up the trailer-man did too, but finally they gave him the old go-by. Sakes alive, who was that old trailer-man but A. J. (Bill) Cook, the doctor of the Dons, out for an early start on his hunting expedition. The man, and small daughter were asleep in the trailer. Bill's pup was up in the front pews with him. Mr. and Mrs. Shields flagged Cook down and chatted quite a spell before continuing northward to their destination at Spokane. The Shields' also dropped in on Bill Cole at Eugene, Ore.

Jimmie Heffron must be mellowing with the years. The old boy was a firebrand in his time, always good for a battle royal when things got dull, but like the rest of the National league proxy wonders whether drifts right base ball. At that, "Rosy" Gilhouse, on San Bernardino's screwball outfielder, was lucky he didn't draw a long suspension for socking Umpire Al Kohler up at Colton the other night.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

NEW YORK—Remember the good old speakeasy days? Well, then, go back a bit farther. Recall the White Hope years—from 1910 to '15?

Not quite as exclusive, perhaps, but equally amusing. Mike Jacobs again came close, but the old Broadway ticket scalper is still looking for that million-dollar gate, and what is next in importance—a kid who can lick Joe Louis.

Jacobs can't get the one without the other—certainly not without an opponent for Louis who stands a little more chance than did Hallie Seals in his last series at home. Jacobs has taken Louis as far as a promoter possibly can take a fighter.

Max Schmeling checked the Negro two years ago, and Jacobs' big fear the other night was that the pure Aryan would repeat. That would have meant another of those silly heavyweight eliminations, for the one-time ferocious Frankfurter land to strut and trumph to Fatherland to strut and trumph to Fatherland to strut and trumph to Fatherland.

But the big blow to the Nordics came. . . . The house fighter prevailed. . . . And now Jacobs, having built Louis, is faced with the monetary problem of tearing him down.

MAY BUILD KNOX INTO CHALLENGER

And whenever Mike Jacobs tackles a monetary problem, you can take it out of the baby's bank and bet that it will get a tall lot of wrestling.

Max Baer in September?

Mayb. And so what? Baer would be a tough fellow to sell in a second edition with Louis. Baer was down with fright last trip, and since Schmeling struck by that train, Jacobs has been searching all airports for trace of the Butterfly butcher boy.

In addition to the danger that Baer wouldn't show up for a fall meeting with Louis, there is the latter's tax headache. It's tough enough for a fighter to fight for a couple of managers without cutting the government in at robust surtax figures.

My idea is that the handlers of Louis will spend some time in thinking over another major start this year.

Tonight's Games
Brea at Orange; Huntington Beach at Whittier; Santa Ana at Irvine; Anaheim at San Bernardino.

Still struggling to get over the 500 hurdle which they've figuratively straddled all season, Santa Ana's Stars travel to Irvine tonight. Games there are played at Irvine stadium.

Manager "Doc" Smith's Smithies have beaten the Orange County league graduates on two occasions this term and are favored to take advantage of the Beapinkies' crippled condition and score a third victory.

Neither Ira DeBusk nor Wilson Seacord, Irvine's first string slingers, will be available to Manager Ernie Lagier. DeBusk wrenched his back last week and is still on the ailing list. Seacord will not be able to come up from San Diego until Friday, so Lagier has to make the most of a bad situation made even worse by the soreness of Ray Hodgson's arm. Outfielder Hodgson is a good pitcher but has a sore arm and is a doubtful starter.

So Horace Sears may have to do the throwing for the Beapinkies. Sears has a dandy fast ball and is rated as a pretty fair fellow on the mound although he heartily dislikes the assignment.

Santa Ana's lineup will be unchanged, according to Manager Smith, except that "Bris" Richardson, the new outfielder, will bat in third place, with Tommy Young dropping down to sixth.

Meadowlark's Poloists Rout Redlands, 9-3

Leading all the way the Meadowlark Polo club's Yellowjackets piled up a 9-3 victory over Redlands on the Meadowlark organization's new turf field yesterday. Ed Hall and Dr. E. J. Steen led the scoring for the Orange county squad, both with three goals. Dick McKee made two and Otto Rousseau one. Henry Lacy, brother of the internationalist, Louis Lacy, refereed.

So it is only natural that Jacobs today is talking about Buddy Knox and may I be first to suggest that this young man may be the party of the second part in bringing back the million-dollar gate.

Sure, Knox is a few months away. . . . Like all the rest, but Louis bobbed up overnight, and so well might Buddy Knox.

PLENTY OF NAMES BUT CAN THEY FIGHT? Knox is a big and rapidly moving youngster out of Dayton, O. He knocked out Max Baer in Chicago the other evening. He's better than fair. A dozen big-time managers would pay plenty for his contract.

After Knox comes Gunnar Barlund and Red Burman. There were excuses for Barlund when Natie Mann showed him some months back, and the Elks' victories over Buddy Baer and some more make him appear rather formidable.

Burman, who is out of Baltimore, has twice been belted out by John Henry Lewis and has been repelled on other occasions, but he has youth on his side and is still growing and trying.

There is a swinger out in Seattle called Wild Bill Boyd. Sammy Goldman has a peerage named Jim Robinson.

Bob Pastor hasn't settled down to losing yet. And his knockout of the towering "Chuck" Crowsell doesn't altogether eliminate that inexperienced Californian.

Jimmy Adackick can smack.

LEWIS OUT BECAUSE OF COLOR LINE

Joe Jacobs, who had Schmeling, would like to put Tony Galento in with Lewis, knowing full well that something more than the beer keg in the professor's orange joint would be tapped.

But John Henry Lewis no doubt will eliminate Galento in Philadelphia July 13.

John Henry Lewis easily might make Jack Johnson's theory about Louis stand up.

But John Henry Lewis has come along a bit too late. The days of the round robins between the Harry Willises, Sam Langford, Joe Jeannettes, and Sam McVey are gone.

Louis, the most favored Negro fighter of all time, has drawn the color line.

That brings us back to the white boys.

Have you a Carl Morris in your neighborhood?

SACS RETURN HOME WITH LEAD SLASHED

(By United Press)

Sacramento came home today with only a two-game lead in the Pacific Coast league after a disastrous 7-2 series loss to the second place Los Angeles club.

The Angels cut down the Solons' margin from seven games to two and threatened to take the top spot this week with its series against tail-end Oakland. Sacramento was to play San Francisco this week. Los Angeles played host to Seattle while Portland went to Hollywood.

Seattle took a double header from Hollywood Monday while other teams in the league split their twin bills.

Sacramento yesterday beat Los Angeles, 9-6, with Newsome on the mound, after coming from behind. Lieber and Bush pitched for Los Angeles, each side getting 12 hits. Lillard held Sacramento to two hits in the nightcap and the Angels won, 9-1. Los Angeles got 12 hits off Phippen, Sherrill and Humphreys.

Seabiscuit, America's money winning champion of 1937, ships from Chicago in quest of the $50,000 Hollywood Gold Cup July 18th. He will find an equine reception committee composed of: Lawrin, hero of the Kentucky Derby and probably the finest 3-year-old in America; and Ligaroti, pride of the Pampas, champion of Argentina, and the new sensation at Hollywood track.

Of course, there will be other horses on the committee, but this pair is likely to make the mile-and-a-quarter "gigantic" a warm and interesting affair for Mr. Biscuit.

Odds Against Biscuit

The odds are against the invader. He made a one day stand in Chicago yesterday where he ran second to War Minstrel over a slow track, and previous to that he barnstormed New England on a no-hit-no run, no-start campaign. There was likewise no score attached to his New York campaign in which he was scratched out of the War Admiral race.

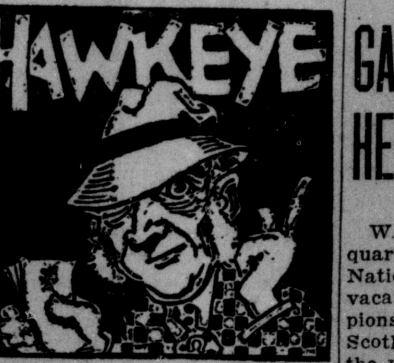

Thus the Biscuit is starting twice within two weeks on top of a 4000 mile shipping schedule. That's a tough hurdle for any horse.

Ligaroti today has earned his unquestioned right to a front rank position in the reception committee. The Big Crosby and Lin Howard galloped cracked the track record for a mile and an eighth in capturing the $7500 American Handicap yesterday.

He whipped the A. C. T. Stable's Whichee in a real thriller. Roul Walsh's Frexo was a distant third, seven lengths back, when Ligaroti crossed the wire in 1:50 for the nine panels.

Sixty thousand racegoers crushed their way into this streamlined racetrack to see the festivities. They installed the entry of Whichee and Indian Broom

Noted plungers bow before me, Race throng follow me in awe; Other handicappers fear me, And to horses I'm a law!

"Hawkeye is the only short cut to sudden riches," chuckled the noted maestro of the turf, "Boy, I never miss," he concluded modestly.

A check-up disclosed that this was indeed so, most fortunately so, as attested by one and all. Needless to say, his astute play for yesterday, Indiantown, won just like he said he would, netting the regal reward of 10 coconuts, a king's ransom, no less.

The astute play for today: Two coconuts across the board on Whiscenda in the fourth race. The finished—standing:

BAR PLACED ON CAR STICKERS

All officers of the California Highway Patrol are strictly enforcing windshield sticker regulations. Capt. H. C. Meehan pointed out here today in advising motorists to use discretion in the use of stickers.

Prohibitory Clause
Capt. Meehan explained: "The motor vehicle code specifically states that no sticker or stickers shall cover an area in excess of seven inches by seven inches in the lower corner of the windshield farthest removed from the driver."

"The code definitely prohibits the use of stickers on either rear or side windows of a car. "In a campaign year many motorists place stickers on their cars but they should be careful to see that these stickers comply with code requirements and that the placement meets specifications."

Chief Cato urged all tourists to keep these regulations in mind and pointed out that an offense against this section of the code is a misdemeanor.

Flood Waters Roll as 'China's Sorrow' Strikes

First picture to reach the United States of a disaster surpassing war in horror as the waters of the Yellow River, "Scourge of the Sons of Han," burst through dykes and inundated at least 7,000 miles of Central China. RACE FOR OIL PERILS BEAUTY

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (UP)—The esthetically minded Port Arthurians apprehensively watch the Sabine Lake horizon these days, expecting at any time to see oil derricks rising from the Louisiana side.

Port Arthur makes its living from the oil industry, having one of the world's largest refining and shipping centers. But this does not spoil the city's beauty or clutter up its lakefront and view.

Cause for alarm to citizens' plans to beautify Sabine Lake and make the city a water playground was the signing by Gov. Richard W. Leche of Louisiana of mineral leases on 20 tracts of state-owned property.

These leases include 23,000 acres in the Louisiana half of Sabine Lake in Cameron parish, across the body of water from Port Arthur.

Texas, which has leased thousands of acres of submerged lands in bays and waterways along the Gulf Coast, may be forced to thwart beautification plans here if the Louisiana wells are drilled in Sabine Lake.

Texas Attorney General William McCraw says that the state must award oil leases on its half of the lake to prevent Louisiana from draining possible oil reserves under the body of water. This would mean oil wells all around Port Arthur.

Sportsmen all along Gulf waters in Southeast Texas have been complaining also about the encroachment of oil. They say that seismograph crews, prospecting for oil deposits through use of dynamite blasts, have killed thousands of game fish.

Patent Granted For Light Bulb Without Filament

WASHINGTON (UP)—A light bulb that never will burn out—unless the bulb is broken—has been patented by Rene A. Coustal, St. Maur, France.

The bulb has no resistance unit to burn out, but radiates light from a chemical coating inside the glass. The chemicals are made to glow by high frequency, high voltage electricity.

Coustal believed the bulbs will be of greatest use for street lighting purposes.

New Setting To Feature Musical

With the perennial favorite "The Glow-Worm" in a fascinating new choral setting, the federal music project chorus, conducted by Dudley Page Harper, will make its semi-monthly appearance at the Orange County Hospital to sing for the patients at 8 p. m. today.

Two Spanish folk-songs (sung in Spanish) are to be given in response to requests. These are the stirring "Adios, Adios, Amoros," and the characteristic "Forque." Lending variety to the program is the whimsical "Pick-Pack-Pickaninny" emphasizing the racial music of the deep south.

The lovely "One Moon-Lit Hour" and "Carmena," another song in the Spanish vein (written in wait time) complete the program. Thirty members of the chorus will participate accompanied on a portable organ by Mrs. Mae Renfer.

Christian Science

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden text was from the Psalms: "We will rejoice in the name of our God we will set up our banners."

The Lesson-Sermon included these verses from Luke: "And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself. And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity. And he laid his hands on her; and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God."

Among the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, were the words: "The miracle of grace is no miracle to Love. . . . Our Master cast out devils (evils) and healed the sick. It should be said of his followers also, that they cast fear and all evil out of themselves and others and heal the sick. God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God."

Revival Services To Be Continued

Revival services will be resumed tonight in the gospel tent at Sycamore and Walnut streets. Those leading in the Baptist revival reported "the most excellent response and growing interest in the three services in the tent Sunday." There were a number of out of town visitors in the service Sunday night, including Mr. O. Kimbrough, deputy recorder from Yuma, Arizona, where Evangelist Pulliam formerly was pastor.

The Rev. and Mrs. Pulliam and son, Paul Ray, were guests over the Fourth of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Westover of Balboa Island, while the Highleys were guests of friends in Los Angeles during the day. Services will continue at 7:30 each evening this week and the public is invited.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 5.—I'm getting doped well fed up with the May and December romances depicted on the screen. I'm tired of seeing fifty-year-old "great lovers" leading eighteen-year-old girls to the altar. I'm bored by the sight of men old enough to be grandfathers—men who look their age in spite of all their make-up skill—playing giddy young Loch-Invars.

It is a comment on Hollywood's mis-casting habit. Because an actor was once a romantic lead, he must, apparently, continue being a romantic lead until he finally totters into his grave. And while he creakingly wags the youthful maid, Hollywood's younger leading men beg for their chance and the producers beat about the lack of romantic males. The one who is dealt with most unjustly, however, is the super-annuated lover. With twenty years of screen experience, he is doomed to go on playing parts which require a minimum of talent. How much better, for him, and for everyone else concerned, if he were given the difficult character roles to which his hard-won ability entitles him.

PET TALKS

—By Mrs. T. J. Neal—

The Bloodhound, strange as it may seem, is the most docile of all breeds of dogs. He is accurate in trailing and never attacks the person he is after. He is the only dog whose evidence is accepted in a court of law.

Scientists claim that fish have nerves, so don't tap on the sides of your aquarium or otherwise startle your tropicals or goldfish, if you wish to keep them healthy.

Fits are usually caused from teething, worms, distemper, over-heating, excitement and indigestion from improper feeding. Fits cannot be really classed as a disease such as epilepsy in human. Remove the cause and the dog will cease having fits.

Those little black Hill Mynahs are really interesting birds. If taken from the nest when just hatched and hand reared, isolated from the others, they soon learn to talk.

Milk will not cause worms in either kittens or puppies. If they are suffering from worms they should never be given milk as it sets up gastric inflammation. It's best to feed raw lean meat to animals infested with worms until good worm medicine.

Do you know when and where the first sport page with featured pictures was published? What was the sport and the breed of dog in the picture? Next week I'll tell you. Apologies to the sport editor.

"Humane Bits"

By FLORENCE A. ROBINSON

Woe is me! Another little aristocrat, who has the Irvine millions back of her, too, can't keep her own dear children filled to their hearts content.

This is the story of cute little Chummy, Mrs. James Irvine's pet Pekie, who has a pedigree longer than the very late Oriental apologetics, and who just presented her mistress with five Pekinese babies.

The blessed event took place in Dr. Fred C. Wright's Veterinary hospital and Chummy hasn't seemed to make the grade in providing the staff of life for her puppies. With what provender she has, augmented by cows' milk in nursing bottles, Chummy's children are struggling along with promise of much better sustenance when a certain little homeless wired-haired terror in the city pound whelps and is brought to the rescue.

Right here we breathe a little prayer that Mrs. Irvine's love for animals will endure in finding a home for the terrier.

After all of our Winkle cat's joy over coming home from Dr. Mark Lindsey's hospital in his swell-elegant ambulance, he came down to earth with a thump Tuesday when he heard that Mrs. E. F. Brunner's dogs, Jingo and Pal, got the first ride on Monday in Dr. N. D. Cash's brand new animal ambulance.

Whew, this is getting too much. Next thing we know they will be bragging about their operations.

Members and friends of the Orange County Humane society, don't forget the regular meeting next Tuesday evening in the Weber Baking company's clubrooms, North Main street at Roe drive. Everyone is welcome and we hope you bring in a new membership. Time is eight o'clock.

'Riot Squad' Call Causes 3 Arrests

Special Officer George Hutchinson called for the "riot squad" when he contacted the sheriff's office last night, stating it probably would require the services of four men to stop a fight at the Silverado cafe, in Silverado canyon.

Deputies G. F. McKelvey, Steve Duhart, A. W. Fullerton and John Gilmore responded to the call and took into custody, R. W. Pratt, Mrs. Alice Pratt and Sydney Williams, all of whom were charged with being intoxicated.

RETAIL FOOD STORES PLEDGE SUPPORT IN MOVING ORANGES

Leaders in the retail food field met with representatives of the California citrus industry in Los Angeles recently and pledged their support in moving the record California Valencia orange crop. Faced with the problem of the largest summer orange crop in the history of the citrus industry, Harry Damerel, chairman of the California Orange Growers Stabilization committee, enlisted the cooperation of in a sustained drive to move the 25,500,000 boxes of fruit executives representing the largest retail outlets for oranges, which must be picked and marketed before November 1.

The full seriousness of the situation as applied to the California orange industry was presented by W. B. Geissinger, advertising manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Record Crop

"The summer orange crop this year will reach approximately 25,500,000 boxes—or 425,000,000 dozen—nearly three dozen for every man, woman and child in the United States," said Mr. Geissinger. "The volume of fruit is 59 per cent larger than a five-year average, and 32 per cent greater than the last bumper crop year, 1935."

More than a million dollars is spent by California citrus growers this summer in advertising the health and bargain appeal of the bumper crop of fruit.

"This appeal, oddly enough, is not a selfish one," declared Mr. Geissinger. "Experience has shown that oranges do not compete with other fresh fruit, since the housewife purchasing oranges for summer salads and desserts also buys more liberally of seasonal fruits to use with them. We have found that they speed turnover of all seasonal fresh fruits because 41 per cent of the 'other than juice' uses of oranges are salads, 32 per cent in fruit cocktails and 18 per cent in cooking and baking in conjunction with other fruits."

Tentative date for the start of the new drive was set for July 9. Territory will include all that west of the Mississippi.

Newlyweds Are Welcomed With Family Dinner

Bridal in all its details of flowers and appointments was the family dinner held yesterday in the Hugh Gerrard home, 2009 Victoria Drive, to welcome the return of Myron Hugh Gerrard, son of the home, and his bride, the former Miss Estelita Rea Bolen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bolen of Denver.

The young couple had planned a quiet holiday wedding in Las Vegas, Nev., on Sunday afternoon, July 2. They exchanged vows at 4 o'clock that afternoon before the Rev. C. H. Sloan, pastor of Las Vegas First Baptist church. The bride, who was unattended, was smartly attired in blue with blouse in dusty pink, worn with a white coat and other accessories in blue and white.

They returned immediately to this city, where they are going to housekeeping at an attractive home at 541 Beverly Place, deferring their honeymoon trip until August.

Mr. Gerrard, who followed his Santa Ana High school course with study at Chapman college, is associated with his father in the Alpha Beta stores. The bride, educated in her native state of Illinois, has been in the law office of Joel E. Ogil.

Yesterday's "welcome home" dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gerrard, saw the young couple of the family circle gathered to receive the newly wedded pair. The group included in addition to Jack Gerrard and the Misses Phyllis and Myrtle Gerrard of the home, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Gerrard and Mr. and Mrs. Win Gordon and their tiny daughter, Sandra. Mrs. Gordon was Miss Thekla Gordon.

Table appointments were on a bridal theme, and a beautiful decorated wedding cake was served with the final course, with the bride cutting the first slice.

Overlooking the bay with the myriads of twinkling lights, the home provided a striking setting for the nuptials. Miss Fuller was in a navy blue suit with white accessories and a gardenia and bouvardia corsage bouquet.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Asa Douglas (Geraldine Cole) of Berkeley and Miss Imogene Bolstad. Best man was the bride's brother, Robert Fuller. Decorations were blue delphinium and yellow snapdragons, carrying out the colors of University of California, of which both the bride and bridegroom are graduates.

Following the ceremony was a wedding supper which included a pretty cake cut by the new Mrs. MacFarlane. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. MacFarlane of this city and Mr. MacFarlane's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. Bee of Berkeley, in addition to members of the Fuller family and the bridal party.

Veteran Rebekahs

Receiving Veteran Rebekahs today at her home, 606 Garfield street, Mrs. Mary Kuhl had arranged that they should hold their covered dish luncheon in the shady garden. This made an enjoyable interval, for tall walnut trees, grassy lawns and blooming flowers all created an interesting setting for the tables.

The luncheon menu was quite as fully appreciated, not only by the Veteran Rebekahs themselves, but by a number of their husbands who shared the event with them. There were more than 30 to find places at the tables.

Plans were made for the organization's annual picnic in Birch park, for the date of August 5. This too will be open to husbands of members. Each one attending is reminded to include table service for her own family group with her

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

I used to wonder why the family's nose curled up when veal loaf was announced at dinner. . . now, I know. Veal, by itself, is a tasteless meat, but combined with the proper ingredients and appropriately libated while baking, it becomes as great a delicacy as roast chicken. Try your next veal loaf this way.

Katherine's Veal Loaf
2 pounds veal shoulder meat put through grinder (at butcher's) with
1/2 pound bulk pork sausage meat

Add to the two meats:
1 cup soft bread crumbs
2 eggs beaten with 1/2 cup milk
1 medium sized onion, ground
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
A few shreds of dried rosemary, or a crumbled bay leaf
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon coarse black pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
1 can of tomato soup.

Put meat and bread crumbs into a bowl, sprinkle with seasonings and ground onion, pour in eggs and milk and work with spoon, then with hands, until the meat makes a spongy pliable mass. Butter a shallow long casserole and shape the meat into a compact mound. Then, take the back of a knife and mark the top of the loaf into slices, slightly less than 1/2 inch wide. Deepen these marks, dust the meat with garlic salt and pepper and spread over the top that can of tomato soup, undiluted. Dot the loaf with butter and bake, first in a 500 degree oven for 20 minutes, then for 1 1/2 hours in a slow oven (325-350 degrees). You'll love it, hot, or cold, with salad!

Wouldn't you like one of our fine Calory Lists? We'd like it, too, and here is how to get the list. Write for it, enclosing a stamped, return-addressed envelope and one of your favorite recipes.

Old-Fashioned Apple Jam
Summer apples, slightly on the green side, peeled, cored and sliced, before weighing Sugar: 3/4 pound to each pound of prepared fruit.

Flavorings: A few whole cloves, a piece of dry ginger root, and half of a lemon rind, all tied in a piece of cheese cloth.

—From the "Covered Wagon" Cook Book.

Quickly prepare fruit, weigh it, measure out proper weight of sugar, then arrange sugar and apples in a shallow kettle, layering them. Cover and let stand for one hour. Sink the spice bag in center of fruit, place kettle over a low fire until the sugar melts and the jam comes to a boil. From now on, keep the rapidly boiling jam stirred constantly with a wooden spoon, boil for exactly 30 minutes, remove spice bag and pour jam into small clean jars.

Because sweet things have a tendency to be flat in taste after boiling, I suggest the addition of the juice of 3 lemons, poured over the layered sugar and apples before boiling.

Frozen Pudding
2 cups rich top milk, scalded
4 egg yolks and 2 whites beaten to a froth, then strained into
1 cup sugar and whipped again.
2 teaspoons softened plain gelatin

JUNE ARRIVAL

1 teaspoon vanilla and dash of salt

2 dozen stale lady fingers, crumbled

1 cup washed dried currants or mixed cupful of thinly sliced candied peels.

2 eggs whites beaten stiff, then with

4 tablespoons powdered sugar
1 cup double cream, whipped stiff.

Add softened gelatin to scalded milk. Add beaten eggs and sugar, and stir constantly until the custard coats the spoon. Take over the lady fingers and currants and let stand until cold.

Flavor the pudding with lemon or orange juice (2 tablespoonsful), stir in whipped cream and fold in beaten egg whites. Spread the pudding in freezing pan and do not disturb while the pudding is in ice chamber. Serve in slices with this sauce:

Beat a cup of canned apricot to a smooth sauce, flavor with grenadine syrup and chill well. The contrast between the bland pudding and sharp fruity sauce is delightful.

Our Children

PROBLEMS OF MISS SIXTEEN

A girl not quite 16, but who wants to be called 16, writes for help. She is pretty and attractive and she wants to go out evenings with, especially one boy, whom she likes very much. Father and mother, especially father, objects to her going out evenings and refuses outright to allow her to go out with the boy, or any other boy, unaccompanied.

"I am made to feel like a baby, a prisoner. I am ashamed of my father. Other girls' fathers let them go out with their boy friends to dances and the movies, but I'm not allowed to have any such privileges. Don't you think this treatment is all wrong, and don't you think it will make me deceitful and drive me into doing something wrong that I would not think of doing if I had my liberty?"

I think nothing of the kind. I know better. I can quite understand the father who will not allow his little daughter of 15, going on 16, to run loose evenings with the boys. He knows the dangers to his daughter, but his daughter cannot comprehend them even when he points them out to her. Sex mistakes are mistakes that lie remote from a child's experience. When her parents try to warn her about them she hears words of warning, of command, and those words mean deprivation of privileges, freedom of movement, fun, and nothing more. Girls of this age do not understand what their teachers and parents are talking about. They are deaf to such warnings because they must hear with experienced minds, and they are not as yet experienced in this field.

The only thing for parents to do under such conditions is to take care to protect their daughters. Usually this can be done in cooperation with the children. If their training has been wise this cooperation has been established at least as far as a working agreement. Trust takes the place of understanding, and the children are safer. If this trust does not exist then authority must take its girls in their early teens, must be protected against their own ignorance.

Nor does this protection apply only to girls. Boys need it quite as much. They are the victims of ignorance too often, and their punishment is far too severe, measured against their understanding of their mistakes. They must be instructed, warned and protected against making mistakes concerning sex relationships, and taught to enjoy friendly association with girls on a healthy, wholesome basis of fair play.

Nor does the protection begin at nightfall. There are all the other hours of the day in which boys and girls may play. Wise and thoughtful parents are careful to program the days of their children so as to fill them with wholesome, interesting occupations. Games in which boys and girls participate; dances under proper supervision; plays in which the mixed group take part; projects that engage all the boys and girls in one way or another. Sex need not be the dominating interest of children in their teens.

Mr. Patri has prepared a special booklet (No. 361) entitled "Obedience" in which he tells parents how to cope with the difficult problems of disobedience. Send for it, enclosing ten cents. Address your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, The Bell Library, care this newspaper, 247 West 43rd Street, New York, N. Y.

I'll grant you that May and December sometimes mate in real life, but you will have to agree that such romances are not our ideal. The average person likes to chuckle when he reads about an ill-assorted marriage in the papers, but I think he would prefer more logic in his screen entertainment.

Some bright mind in the Twentieth Century-Fox research department has unearthed a set of facts and figures which should interest clothes-conscious ladies—and their long suffering husbands. The Empress Eugenie, now being portrayed on the screen by Loretta Young, was Europe's fashion queen. She bought an average of nineteen new outfits each year, and her annual clothes bill averaged $10,000. For the picture, the studio's wardrobe department turned out eighteen gowns for Loretta—and, by virtue of the studio's buying power, turned them out for a minimum cost. Yet the bill amounted to exactly $38,000! How times—and prices—do change!

Our three most gun-crazy stars—Clark Gable, Gary Cooper and Fred MacMurray—have been feuding for months about their respective prowess at skeet shooting. A few days ago, their supporters finally arranged a triangular duel and the lads shot it out. Fred MacMurray—such a gun fan that he has installed a private shooting gallery in the basement of his home—took first honors. Gary Cooper was a close second; Clark was a close third. The results of that match were properly publicized, but I don't believe that many people know of the amusing anticlimax which happened yesterday afternoon. Carole Lombard shot a duel match with the MacMurray—and he now is only an ex-champ.

Probably no man in the world has the addresses and telephone numbers of more pretty girls than has W. E. Bradford, the publicity man who "handles" all the Paramount's filmstars. He spends his days searching out famous beauties, posing them for "leg art" and interviewing them. To be true to form, Brad should be quit a devil of a fellow—the kind who can be depended upon to furnish every party with a bevy of cuties. But everything in Hollywood being topsy-turvy, he is the most devoted of husbands and fathers—and an Assistant Scoutmaster!

Had lunch today with Dick Powell—and picked up an amusing story about Hollywood superstitions. Says that Director Ray Enright's particular fetish is a white linen cap. He wore it when he made his first success and he's worn it ever since on the set. One afternoon last week, Dick wanted to get off an hour early. Enright refused permission and Dick—with a cunning that does his ingenuity credit—pilfered the famous white cap, which was lying unguarded on the director's chair. It worked like magic. Ray stormed and fretted when he discovered his loss, refused to shoot without it safely on his head and finally, in despair, dismissed the company for the remainder of the day. favorites, with Ligaroti the second choice at 3 to 1.

Two Horse Battle

From the outset, it was a two-horse battle. Whichever shot to the front on the rail, and Ligaroti broke like a bullet from the middle of the pack. They were running one-two at the clubhouse turn. Indian Broom and Gray Jack fought it out in third position, heads apart in the early running, but both fell by the wayside as Whichever blazed a burning pace.

Whichever turned down the backstretch in front, and Jockey Noel Richardson on Ligaroti was content to let him set the pace, staying a length off the leader.

They ran this way until they curved around the lower turn and then Ligaroti inched forward, slowly coming up on even terms with Whichever. They turned for home heads apart, and in the run down the frontstretch Ligaroti proved the gamer, winning by three-quarters of a length. Richardson glanced back over his shoulder twice in the last 70 yards and did not whip out his mount, while Peters was fashing Whichever to the bitter end.

Preco closed well to be third, but failed to menace the leaders, and wasn't within close halting distance at the windup.

Herbert M. Woolf's Unerring, full sister to Lawrin, established herself the ranking 2-year-old at the course when she trounced Kenty Miss by a length and a half going away, with Valley Lass, another sister, a tiring third.

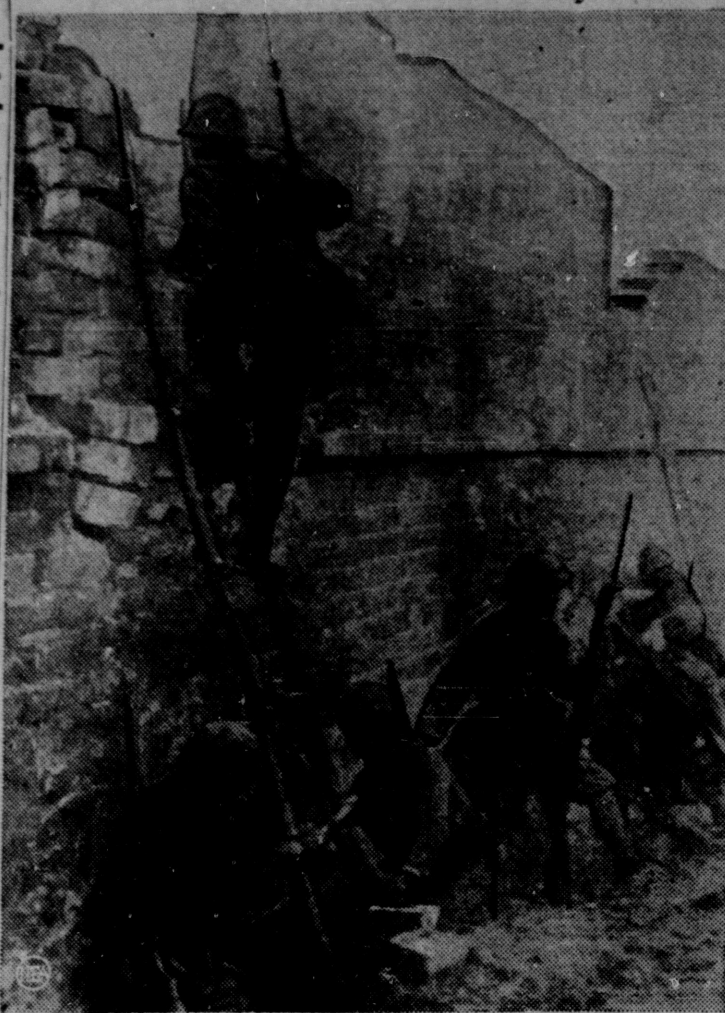

Another new track record was hung up when Unerring skipped the five and a half furlongs in 1:06, clipping three-fifths of a second off her own mark. She was a 1 to 2 shot in the betting.

Mrs. Teresa Loeffler's Real Clear, beaten in a $600 top and bottom claimer a year and a half ago, captured the third feature of the afternoon, the Long Beach Handicap at a mile. Staging a strong stretch rush, she caught the tiring pacemaker, Alviso, near the finish, with Bosworth, a strong-going third. Don Roberto, the favorite, tired under the top impost of 120 pounds. The winner paid $10, straight.

The handle, like the crowd, hit a new record when $96,631 churned through the tote. Hollywood Park today raised its purses, Jack MacKenzie, general manager, announcing that there will be a minimum of $1000. Previously a few $800 and $900 purses had been offered. The move, certainly justified by the business is but a glimpse into the future.

Child's Picture
Reveals Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5.—(UP)—Two copies of a picture of little Charles Keeler, taken when he was 22 months old, were sent by a San Francisco newspaper to the child's mother, Mrs. Robert Keeler, at Greenfield migratory workers camp No. 4 at Chowchilla.

They were sent in response to a letter from the mother who said the picture was taken as part of a series showing the effect on the lives of migratory workers of San Joaquin Valley floods this spring.

It was taken March 9. Little Charles died May 9.

"It was the last picture and the best we have of him," the mother said.

MAN FALLS IN RIVER—DIES

COLFAX, Calif., July 5.—(UP)—The death of Robert C. Vogel, 21, San Francisco lineman who fell into the Tuba river while working on a power line in Bear Valley, today was attributed to his attempts to recover a level he had dropped.

Vogel, a welder's helper for the Pacific Gas and Electric company, dropped 100 feet into the river late Sunday. His body was not recovered until yesterday.

MILK SALE SUIT
OPENS IN COURT

Manuel Pereira's suit against Adolph Weinberg, Ontario feed store owner, for an accounting of receipts from sale of milk produced by Pereira's dairy herd in Orange county, was being heard today by Superior Judge Robert McIntosh, of Downieville.

Pereira, who gave mortgages on his land at the time of purchase in 1936, found himself unable to press claims for an accounting of matters prior to last January 18, because of subsequent mortgages, his attorney, R. E. Crowley, of Santa Ana, admitted.

C. E. Crowley, Ontario attorney representing Weinberg, objected to taking any testimony, on the ground that there was nothing since January 18 to constitute a cause of action. Plaintiffs counsel pointed out allegations of the complaint which the court ruled were sufficient to require a hearing. Weinberg then was called to the stand to start the testimony.

The Tigers won over Cleveland yesterday 7-3 and 5-2. Elden Auker outpitched Bob Feller in the opener, limiting the Indians to six hits, and Harry Eisenstat turned in a five-hit performance for the nightcap victory.

The Boston Red Sox pulled to within 2 1/2 games of the tied leaders when they bumped the Philadelphia Athletics 8-5 and 5-2. Fitz Ostermuller scattered 10 hits to the A's in the first game as his mates pounded two pitchers for 15. In the second, young Jim Bagby scored his sixth victory.

The Chicago White Sox took two from the St. Louis Browns 5-4 and 5-1. The New York Giants retained their 3 1/2 game lead in the National league by blasting the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3-0 and 16-1. Schumacher pitched a six-hit game in the first and Castelman a seven-hit affair in the second.

The second place Pittsburgh Pirates also won a pair, 2-1 and 3-2, over Cincinnati. It ran their winning streak to seven and gave them 23 victories in their last 31 games. Blanton and Swift went the route to score for the Pirates. The double loss dropped the Reds eight games from the top.

Chicago and St. Louis divided a pair by identical scores, 4-3. Boston and Philadelphia also split.

Woman Burglar
Sought by Police

Investigation of Santa Ana police yesterday indicated a woman burglar was responsible for removal of $138 worth of clothing from the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith, 2421 Heliotrope drive, Sunday night. The woman stopped long enough to try on several pairs of shoes but finally carried off only a pair of slippers.

A handbag belonging to Kathryn Bolton, niece of the Smiths, was among the loot. A wire or pick was used in unlocking a window screen to gain entrance. Shades were drawn by the burglar and doors and windows unlocked in preparation for a quick getaway. A man may have been the woman's accomplice, officers believed.

Swift & Company
Fights Ruling

CHICAGO, July 5.—(UP)—Swift & Company, Chicago meat packing firm, today filed in the U. S. Circuit court of appeals an appeal from an order by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace to cease "unfair, unjustly discriminatory and deceptive" practices in the sale of its products.

In its appeal, the company denied the charges and proposed Wallace's findings as "contrary to the evidence presented."

It termed the proceedings "a denial of a full and fair hearing as required by the fifth amendment to the constitution (due process of law), by the packers and stockyard acts, and by the rules of practice promulgated by the secretary of agriculture to govern proceedings under the act."

UNAPPROPRIATE SNAKE
AMITYVILLE, N. Y., July 5.—(UP)—Frank "Bring 'Em Back Alive" Buck was back on the job today, recovered from the bite of a 24-foot python which slashed his finger last night when he tried to force food into its mouth. He was taken to Reed general hospital.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS
New York Stocks

Citrus Prices By Sizes

NEW YORK, July 5.—(UP)—Profits-taking reduced prices on the stock market today in volume that again approached the 2,000,000 share mark.

The market began with a rush of orders accumulated over the holiday week-end. Initial blocks of 1,000 to 4,000 shares dotted the tape. For a few minutes thereafter the tickers ran behind. They caught up before 10:30 and kept abreast of the market.

Realizing shares brought out a supply of offerings. However, there was only moderate pressure on leading issues and market men pronounced the action of the list as highly favorable.

Steel shares were fairly active. U. S. Steel touched 60 1/2, fell to 58 1/2, off 3/4 and rallied slightly. Others behaved similarly. Chrysler was depressed. Issues were depressed fractions to more than a point but firmed late in the day on strength in the export copper market. Anaconda eased from 34 1/2 to 33 1/2, off 1/4, and then came back to 34.

Packard and General Motors opened on 4,000 share blocks at firm supply. Packard held steady, General Motors equalled its high and then declined more than a point. Chrysler was heavily traded, ranging between 68 1/2 and 64 1/2, the latter off 1/4. Hudson and Nash-Kelvinator were active early in the day.

—SAVE A LIFE—

CELLULOID AND COAL

Sometimes a man chooses a career, but much more frequently the career chooses the man. And the chances are that the latter procedure produces no more square-peg-round-hole combinations than the former.

A story comes of a man who spent his youth training for the legal profession. He made a success of the practice of law, and kept on being a success for 35 years. He then lost every penny he had in speculation. He walked into a moving picture casting director's office one day and was mistaken for another man of the same name who already was in the business.

That was the beginning of a movie career, at the age of 57. He is now having the time of his life as an actor, makes money at it, and recalls his years at the bar with acute distaste.

Another story concerns a 19-year-old girl named Rose Chickiris. There's not a great deal to say about Rose except that she sells coal, makes a good living at it, knows all about coal, and is on her way to establishing her own coal company. It seems she just happened to get a job in a coal office one day.

Fifty-seven-year-old men don't think of becoming moving picture actors, and 19-year-old girls don't go around dreaming dreams of selling coal.

It makes you suspect that most people probably have a lot more careers in them than they could discover in a life time, and your chances of being picked by the right career are at least as good as the chances of doing the right picking yourself.

MORE THAN MAJORITY RULE

If there is one thing that marks democracy off from other systems of government, it is this: In democracy, minorities are assured that certain rights common to all may not be taken away from them, even by a majority.

Thus democracy is greater than mere "majority rule." It means that all individual men have certain rights which cannot be taken from them whether they happen to agree or not with the majority at any given time and place. It means that all the force of the public power shall be used to see that they get those rights, even at times and under circumstances when at a given time and place a local majority may oppose it.

It is because this principle lies close to the core and heart of democracy, that the row now going on in Newark and Jersey City over Mayor Frank Hague is more important than a mere local affair. It is important that people understand the principles involved.

Hague's defense in the failure to protect Norman Thomas from a mob which egged him was simply that people were against Thomas and the police could not prevent his being attacked, that they did well to get him out with his life.

That is scarcely enough to satisfy anyone with any faith in democracy. People who didn't care for Thomas' principles, and didn't wish to hear him speak could very well stay away. To allow them to assemble and violently assault a man exercising a commonly recognized right to make a free speech, is something else again.

Democracy assumes that men have certain rights as men and as citizens which even a majority can not and must not take away.

GRATIFYING NEWS

Most hopeful news for democracy and closer relations with the United States keeps filtering up from South America in increasing volume.

Latest of these cheery signs is the orderly and enthusiastic induction of Gen. Alfredo Baldomir as president of Uruguay. Pledged to restore a democratic and constitutional administration and resist Fascism, General Baldomir was greeted with an unprecedented burst of popular acclaim as he took over the office vacated by Dr. Gabriel Terra.

General Baldomir is known to be friendly toward the United States, and there is every hope that his administration will swing Uruguay into closer relationships with "America del Norte" rather than with Europe. To see orderly democracy register such a signal victory in any American country is pleasing, and especially so in a country which, like Uruguay, has in the past resorted to "short-cut" methods, and now gives new evidence of attaining its democratic maturity.

The quick squelching of a Fascist coup in Brazil by President Vargas was another hopeful sign. The foreign-inspired Integralista group was given very short shrift by Vargas, who appears to be moving definitely toward a more truly democratic regime.

Colombia and Argentina are bright spots in the southern governmental firmament, and our nearest southern neighbor, Mexico, quickly stamped out whatever Fascist threat there might have been in the pretensions of Saturnino Cedillo.

Closer relations with several South American countries are being actively fostered. A plan to send American farmers to the state of Matto Grosso in Brazil is being considered.

The "good neighbor" policy is more than words. It is not impossible that the tide of democracy, ebbing now in Europe, may reverse itself in South America and swell to its flood in the western hemisphere. Recent events in South America give new hope and inspiration to everyone who believes in and loves democracy.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

By King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Rules and regulations under which 2,500,000 cotton farmers must live henceforth were signed by Agriculture Secretary Wallace more than a week ago—but no pictures were taken and the pen was not awarded to anyone. In fact, no publicity was issued at all then.

The AAA press section was ready with the customary release at the time, but larger farm-thinkers in the department got to thinking the edicts might not look very good in print. As Mr. Roosevelt was then making those New York speeches denouncing regimented nations, it was deemed wise to let the 47 page ukase dawn gradually upon the public mind—particularly part IV, section 401 which will always hereafter be known as "the decree of the white sheep and red goats."

This decree provides that a card of purest white must be issued to every cotton farmer who signed up for what is more or less facetiously called the "voluntary" crop reduction program. This white card will contain the farmer's serial number, given him by the county committee, his name, address, signature and a code number locating his farm by state and county. He is to be a white sheep, a man of honor.

To goats who do not sign up, a card of deepest red, is to be issued, containing the same data as the white cards, but printed on cardboard hued with the mark of shame (or is it courage). He is to be a red goat, a man to be shunned by all except Republicans.

No others are to exist among cotton farmers, only white or red, sheep or goat.

This is not being done just for federal fun. It is government business of extraordinary seriousness.

When a buyer goes to a cotton farmer, or vice versa, the farmer must produce his card before his cotton. If he farmer has a white card, everything is fine. The buyer can buy all he wants. But if a farmer should happen to turn out to be a toadish goat, and shows a red ear, things immediately become very complicated for him.

The buyer must then make a record of every bale bought and send a complete report to the AAA at once, for the first thing. Then the farmers quota is marked on his card, be he sheep or goat. If goat, and he wants to sell more than the card allowed him to produce, the buyer must collect two cents a pound penalty tax from him on the surplus—and send the money to the AAA.

If red goats sell less than their quota (they might distribute their products to several buyers) the buyer must report just how much he bought and point out that it is not in excess of the quota. The AAA keeps track of these reports through a long and tedious system of checking, so if any red goat escapes, government agents will descend upon him and nick him for his penalty—thereafter at any rate.

The regulations contain about 22,500 legal words, so it may be dangerous to say what is and what is not in them, but first reading fails to disclose what will happen to anyone counterfeiting white cards, or to a white sheep who might rent his card out to a red goat after a hailstorm, etc.

Whatever it is, it will unquestionably be dire, as the AAA is powerful and will eventually have on file every worthwhile fact about every farmer—as well as his number.

Incidentally, when all the workmen have their social security serial numbers and the farmers have theirs, the government will have practically everybody's number.

Who is responsible for drawing the color line on cotton farmers is a matter of confusing debate. Wallace's friends blame it on congress. They say it is in the law. But they wrote the law, or most of it. This card distribution provision, however, one which they insist they did not write.

Obviously they are hesitant about public reaction to it, although they do not know any better means of enforcing what they are trying to do.

Wallace has a new "ever-normal granary" idea for railroads. He may shortly come out for high rates in times of prosperity and low rates in times of depression by automatic action. This is one of the things behind his recent establishment of a "division of transportation" in the agriculture department. The new farm act appropriated $50,000 for it.

The only government official who has been able to develop fully Mr. Roosevelt's plan to create leisure is Ambassador to Belgium Joe Davies. The state department gave out the other day by request, Mr. Davies' time sheet for the year and a half he was in Moscow. It showed: Time off for traveling on official business (not including trips to the U. S.), 99 days; leave without pay 37 days; leave with pay, almost 90 days.

Still Sending 'Em Out

Clearing House

Fellow Citizens:

While sitting in the lobby of a Los Angeles hotel a couple of days ago, I overheard a conversation in which they were discussing the financial conditions of the country, and they also had considerable to say about the present relief conditions here in California.

Hearing this conversation caused me to think more seriously of what I had read in the Los Angeles Times June 13th, which was headed "Our Relief Plight." I will quote in part only. "It is a gloomy picture which State Relief Administrator Pomeroy paints of unemployment and relief conditions in California, one calculated to make the worried taxpayer wonder when it will all end."

"Everyone is aware by now, of course, that Southern California is the goal of the nation's indigent. The legislature paved the way for the heira of the old when it snapped at the condition-ringed lure of Federal grants towards the old-age assistance program, 'liberalized' the state's own requirements for aid in this field and then, for good measure, raised pensions and knocked out additional protective restrictions on its own responsibility." "This is an intolerable state of affairs and calls for action upon California's part to acquaint the rest of the country with the truth about our employment conditions." "And the sooner California gets out of its old-age assistance bargain, the better."

Now the above is just a fair example of what a State-Federal old-age pension plan can mean. Wonder how much hidden tax such a plan is costing the taxpayers?

Wouldn't it be better to have a national old-age plan where a 2 per cent transactions-sales tax would better take care of the old-age people and at the same time eliminate all other costly political job-making old-age pension plans? I believe a national plan is the only plan that will tend to raise the standard of living for both young and old, as the pension money would be universally distributed throughout the nation. It will have to be admitted that the Dr. Townsend old-age pension plan has set the nation pension-minded. As I understand it, Dr. Townsend all-ways has held to the plan of $200 per month as being the maximum amount of pension. I believe that Mr. Holles at one time—in speaking of a 2 per cent sales tax plan, said, "the best way to test a theory, is to reduce it to the extreme, either enlarge it or reduce it to small numbers."

Now, in my article to the Clearing House, May 23rd, I endeavored to paint a picture of what might happen in Santa Ana by figuring a maximum pension of $200 per month to each of 2100 pensioners, and, as it was used as an example picture only, I don't believe anyone can find anything wrong with the figures. As to the maximum amount per month that a Congress might fix in passing an old-age pension bill, is a different story.

From what I have read about the Dr. Townsend National pension plan, I have it pictured out as being a plan providing for not to exceed a 2 per cent gross sales tax on all business transactions, and that such sales tax only can be used for the old-age pension fund, and that the maximum pension would not at any time exceed $200 per month, and that in order to be

THE IRISH SETTER VOTE

By GUS W. DYER

Professor of Economics and Sociology, Vanderbilt University

We have a young Irish setter at home, and he causes much trouble, especially in the garden and the orchard. He chases the rabbits and the chickens, frightens the birds and is other crimes and misdemeanors. When he is called he doesn't come unless it suits his convenience and pleasure.

When everyone else has failed to call him in an appeal is made to the cook for help. When she comes out and raises her voice he comes like a streak of lightning. Incidentally, the cook feeds the Irish setter. Notwithstanding the fact that the food she gives him does not belong to her, she has a wonderful personality in the estimation of the Irish setter. In an election she would carry the Irish setter vote one hundred per cent regardless of the issues.

Congress has given the political party now in power authority to spend or give away billions of the people's money in practically any way it may choose. The President earnestly asked that he be given this power to spend the taxpayer's money, and the administration forces succeeded after a bitter fight in giving their chief the power he desired.

Congress was not permitted to direct the expenditures of the billions appropriated. Twice the administration forces defeated proposals to prohibit political activities by employees in emergency agencies. Hopkins may continue to tell the millions who are receiving relief at his hands his choice of candidates in the various states.

The administration forces also defeated all efforts to turn over the work on relief to the several states.

The millions on relief, the eleven millions unemployed, the great eligible to receive same, one could not engage in further labor, business or profession for gain, and that their past life must be free from habitual criminality. To aim that a 2 per cent sales tax would work a hardship upon the ones selling don't sound reasonable to me. The one selling would not pay a 2 per cent sales tax unless he made a sale, and I am sure that anyone would gladly pay a 2 per cent sales tax if they could make a fair per cent of profit by doing so. More sales, more profit, with a less per cent of overhead cost, and better values to the consumer. I think it would be a more profitable way to stimulate business than the present "cut price" way of having "week end sales," "Dollar Day sales," "Overstocked Sales," "Remodeling Sales," and goodness only knows what not sales, all of which are intended to stimulate business, and which is harder on the sales people to take care of the ones "just looking," than it is to take care of the ones really buying.

Now, if from an old-age pension fund that had been created from a 2 per cent sales tax plan, it were distributed throughout the entire nation on a uniform pro-rata basis to all those who were eligible to receive same, it would place a regular monthly flow of money into the pockets of the nation, which would be a Godsend into any section badly in need of same on account of some hard-hit unavoidable condition, as each and every pensioner would receive the same amount of pension, regardless of where they might be living.

The belief that a city, town, or community would first have to pay out a certain amount in the way of sales tax in order to have the same amount return to them in the way of a pension, is wrong, as most of the 2 per cent sales tax would originate from the heavy business districts, and from districts where people were best able to buy, and according to how freely they spent. No moving from one state to another on account of a more liberal pension.

Now, I'm not an authority on the Dr. Townsend Pension plan, but the above is about what I would understand the intent of the plan to be. J. A. AUKERMAN.

JOHNSON SAYS

BETHANY BEACH, Del.—Compared with many battles of the World War, Gettysburg was just a skirmish. The line was only about seven miles long, whereas the Western Front alone stretched from the Vosges Mountains to the North Sea. Counting service of supply and lines of communications, a single American division in 1918 accounted for 50,000 men—2-3 as many as Lee's whole army. A single division of artillery in the Somme drumfire shot in an hour more ammunition than both armies in the famous artillery duel preceding Pickett's charge. An average day's casualties during any battle in France were greater than those of the whole of Gettysburg.

Yet there was no day in the World War and perhaps no day in the world's history more decisive than the last day at Gettysburg. Something that is frequently overlooked in talking about the "High Water Mark" at the "umbrella-shaped clump of trees" where Pickett broke is that, on the next day, Vicksburg fell before Grant, the Confederacy was cut in two, and the "Father of Waters" flowed again unvexed to the sea. It was the blackest day in Confederate history and Gettysburg was only part of it.

In the West, Grant had won every major battle. In the East, except for disputed Antietam, the Army of the Potomac had lost every one—first and second Manassas, McClellan's Peninsula campaign, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville. Here on a single day the Confederacy was shattered on two fronts.

When I was a cadet at West Point, we studied the Battle of Gettysburg for several weeks, from the first movement of Lee's army out of Virginia to his masterly retreat across the Potomac. When every man in the class knew it so thoroughly that he could time the arriving of each brigade at the front, the class went down there to go over every day's movements on the ground. Just before that, the battles studied were Bonaparte's first Italian campaign and his campaign of Marengo.

It was the difference between following an expert chess-player and watching a blindfold game of pinning the tail on the donkey. Napoleon selected his field, sucked his enemy into it, and defeated him in detail. No Northern general selected the almost impossible position of Gettysburg. They were just blunderingly driven back on it by blundering Confederates and blunderingly didn't recognize it when they got there.

In spite of their superiority in supplies, numbers and position, they might have got another licking and it was no fault of Federal generalship that they didn't. Lee didn't have Jackson. He didn't have Jeb Stewart and his cavalry. He didn't have Longstreet. Jackson was dead. Jeb had gone off on a foolish raid which deprived Lee of his cavalry screen. Stupid, stubborn, Longstreet delayed and wouldn't obey orders until the Blue had stumbled or been driven into a position too powerful to assault.

I have always thought that the real key to the outcome has been minimized. On the last day, Jeb Stewart, with his cavalry concentrated, at last turned up several miles in rear of the Union line. Meade had an inferior force of cavalry and a few guns out there—and they were withdrawing. The Confederate plan was to bring Stewart in from the rear as Pickett charged. It would certainly have made a difference.

As Stewart's massed raiders in columns of platoons advanced at a trot, they were charged, mounted, and in flank by an inferior force led by the impetuous and much maligned Custer yelling like a madman, "Come on you Wolverines."

It was one of the fiercest and most spectacular cavalry charges in history. At the point of furious impact men, sabers and horses were tossed in the air like spindrift from a breaking wave. It shattered Stewart's cavalry. I have always thought that it saved the battle for Meade.

THE CHURCH, NOT CHRISTIANITY

A contributor in discussing the church and Christianity, makes some rather loose statements to which exceptions should be taken.

First, he says, "Christendom is too intent upon preserving its prestige, glorying in its antiquity, and satisfied with the finality of its dogmas." We think the contributor should have said, the church, instead of Christendom. He is confused between Christendom and the church.

Again he says that the minister "knows what he ought to do, but does it not. If he attempted it, he would lose his job."

Further, he says, "The basic cause (referring to the depression) is recognized as, selfishness, greed and graft."

In the first place, the minister does not know exactly what he should do. His theological training did not include a thorough study of ethics, economics and social sciences. So it is asking too much to expect the minister alone to lead us into intellectual honesty. He must be supported by the thinkers who believe in the fundamental principles of Christianity. It is probably true because of the lack of leadership many of the thinkers have left many of the churches and they are confused as to how they can best use their talents to help interpret what real Christianity and Democracy and the Universal Rule are.

As to selfishness, greed and graft being the cause of the depression, it is not by any means the sole cause. Many of the finest people in the world with the most unselfish motives are probably as much responsible for the depression as the most selfish individuals. They simply do not know the fundamental principles necessary to develop character, Christianity and practical democracy. Social and economic progress is an evolving idea that we are seeking and cannot by the nature of things be accomplished without errors. But to accuse these errors as solely the result of selfishness, greed or graft, is not a logical conclusion.

We need the combined intelligence and guidance of not only the preachers, the public educators, press, radio, statesmen, but every individual in every way must contribute his bit to bringing about the recognition of the fundamental principles of Christianity, that the Universal Rule is the Golden Rule and that there must be no class legislation, no discrimination. It is because we have selfishly or ignorantly violated these principles, that we find ourselves in the catastrophe we are now in.

The Nation's Press

MR. ROOSEVELT AND THE PURGE

Mr. Roosevelt in his fireside chat said that not as President but as head of the Democratic party he would take sides in the party primaries when his principles and his name were at stake. He would not, he said, oppose a liberal candidate who "had conscientiously differed from me on any single issue."

This denial of the purge does not agree with what has happened or what is planned. There was much sophistry in the speech. Mr. Roosevelt tried to convey the impression that he was not saying exactly what he was saying, as when he pleaded for argument without blows while he slipped over a few punches to the chins of his favorite economic royalists.

Mr. Roosevelt spoke as the foe. His opinions must be the party's opinions and through the dominance of his party he made the national opinions. Nonconformity is not permissible. It is not allowed within the party. Opposition whether within or outside the party, is stigmatized as unworthy, ignoble and unpatriotic. No one who does not accept Mr. Roosevelt's program is to be regarded as well intentioned or worthy of respect.

He spoke of democracy, independence, freedom of opinion, of religion, and the press, but without modifying his obvious idea of personal government which will always be right and cannot be opposed. The only defect he found in his government was that once or twice it had put too much trust in untrustworthy persons. Five years ago he wasn't very much in favor of freedom, particularly of the press, when he tried to license newspapers under a code and when his NRA administrator was cracking down on all protests.

Mr. Roosevelt intends to have no one in the Democratic party who will not support the legislation he proposes, follow him without criticism in any course of action he takes, and agree with him that when word goes out of the White House it is imperative. The speech will not give a Democratic congressman who was independent and used his own mind any sense of security in his campaign for re-election. Senator Guy Gillette of Iowa was a pretty thoroughgoing New Dealer on his record of supporting Mr. Roosevelt, but he was on the blacklist because he opposed the court packing plan. That was his one great offense and it was an unforgivable sin. The White House tried to beat him in retaliation. He "had conscientiously differed with me" on a single issue, which was whether the United States should keep its democratic and constitutional form of government.

The other senators on the blacklist will get the same treatment. And now it is apparent that members of the house of representatives will be put through the purge. The White House storm troopers, James Roosevelt and Tom Corcoran, have picked young William E. Dodd Jr. to run against Congressman Howard W. Smith of Virginia, because Smith has been too independent. It may be ridiculous, but it reveals intentions.

Mr. Roosevelt indicates that there is no place in his party for any one who is not a 100 per cent planned society New Dealer. The conservatives are out. The purge is to get them and there will be only Hitler yes men or Stalin communists. The federal spending and lending campaign is just being started to run along with the political campaign. The opposition must beat five billion dollars. Such men as Glass, Byrd, Burke, Wheeler, Garner, and all others, whether in the senate or house, who defeated the court bill and the reorganization bill are to be run out of the party.—Chicago Tribune.

Kansas City Star: "The record of the Board since it was put to work has been virtually an unbroken series of arbitrary decisions and orders calculated to create strife instead of lessen it. . . . The act itself is grossly one-sided, basically unfair. Only when it is revised to guarantee just dealing to both sides can there be reasonable assurance of the peaceful relations that are urgently needed in industry today."
